

Bitter Differences Over Korean Truce Top Agenda For UN

By OSGOOD CARUTHERS
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (P) — Bitter East-West differences on how to end the Korean War appeared certain today to be given first place on the list of subjects to be thrashed out in the U.N. General Assembly's powerful Political Committee.

The 60-nation "first" committee planned to elect officers late today and decide the order in which it will discuss the many controversial world issues allotted to it. Besides Korea, these include world disarmament, atomic energy control, charges of racial discrimination in South Africa, and Tunisian and Moroccan colonial disputes with France.

Acheson Heads Fight
The Soviet bloc and Western nations appeared agreed on one thing at least—that the questions surrounding the deadlocked Korean armistice negotiations and all other items directly connected should get top priority.

Secretary of State Dean Acheson will head the United States fight in the Korean debate. American delegates circulated through the U.N. halls seeking co-sponsors for a resolution Acheson is to introduce asking the General Assembly to approve the U.N. Command's conduct of the Korean War and truce negotiations and to appeal to the Communists for an armistice immediately on U.N. terms.

No Compromise
Diplomatic sources said Britain and France were avoiding direct sponsorship of the resolution in accordance with their policy of refraining from such major moves until after the American presidential election.

The leaders of the Eastern and Western camps have served notice already of no compromise in their differing terms for ending the Korean conflict. The Russians and their allies have indicated tactical plans for trying to move the

Stevenson Tied Up With Trumanism, Says Gov. Byrnes

CHARLESTON, S.C. (P) — South Carolina's Gov. James F. Byrnes says the election of Democratic presidential candidate Adlai Stevenson will mean a continuation of "Trumanism" in Washington.

Byrnes made his first major speech here last night in support of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, the Republican nominee. He has scheduled several other speeches.

War No. 1 Issue
At a rally of South Carolinians for Eisenhower, Byrnes said if Stevenson is elected, "he will be under such obligations to Truman that he will have to comply with Truman's requests."

Byrnes, former secretary of state, war mobilizer and member of the Supreme Court, said Truman will call on Stevenson to continue his policies. "He will claim that the people have given a mandate to continue Trumanism."

Byrnes said Eisenhower "can do more than any other man to promote peace in the world and restore confidence in government."

Terming the Korean situation one of the really important election issues, the 72-year-old Byrnes declared:

"If we can put an end to the Korean war and the threat of World War III, all other problems

Wife Won't Say She's Communist

LOS ANGELES (P) — Red-haired actress Dorothy Comingsore declined to say whether she is a member of the Communist party as she opened her custody fight for her two children.

She seeks custody of Judith, 11, and Michael, 8. Resisting her is her former husband, screen writer Richard J. Collins, 38, who renounced communism two years ago and testified in Washington as a co-operative witness.

Collins' counsel, Mrs. Mable Wilhelms, asked Miss Comingsore in court yesterday:

"Are you a member of the Communist party?"

Miss Comingsore testified she is a loyal American and declared, "My people helped settle this country—they helped to found New Amsterdam and to settle Kentucky."

The actress denied being intoxicated in front of the children, as charged, and stated that her ex-husband is almost $15,000 behind in the $500-a-month support payments ordered by the court. They were divorced in 1946.

Strike In Coal Mines
Called By Government,
Sen. McCarthy Says

OAK HILL, W. Va. (P) — "The first strike ever called by the government," is the way Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy refers to the walkout of some 322,000 soft coal miners.

"It's the first time that the men and the companies have gotten together only to have government come in and call a strike," he said in a speech yesterday.

The Wisconsin Republican was referring to a walkout by the miners after the Wage Stabilization Board cut 40 cents off the $1.90 daily wage increase they recently won. The pay hike was agreed to by the mine owners and John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers.

McCarthy spoke at a $25-a-plate GOP fund-raising luncheon.

Eisenhower Gets Great Welcome In New England

By DON WHITEHEAD
WITH EISENHOWER (P)—Dwight D. Eisenhower's near-the-finish drive for the presidency headed for Connecticut, Massachusetts and New York State today in one of the most concentrated White House campaigns ever waged.

The 62-year-old Republican candidate wasn't sparing himself or his staff as he fought for the 266 electoral votes needed for victory on Nov. 4.

On Radio Forum
In a followup to his rousing reception yesterday in Boston, he moved on Hartford, Conn., and Springfield and Pittsfield, Mass., as preliminary stops to a major speech tonight at Troy, N. Y.

The three states have a total of 69 electoral votes. Last night both Eisenhower and his Democratic opponent, Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois, were heard by the New York Herald Tribune Forum in New York City. Their talks were about as non-political as any such talks could be at this stage of the fiercely fought campaign.

Free World Threatened
Eisenhower appeared in person and told the forum he favors a "new economic alliance of free nations" to fight against the Communist prediction that the free world is headed for economic doom.

He argued that the recent Communist Party Congress in Moscow indicated the cold war was "assuming a new and even more sinister pattern" that threatens the free world.

He said: "I think we should take a new look at this economic world of ours. I think that, in concert with our closest allies, a long-term consistent program should be produced, directing all of our economic power toward reviving free world economies and trade as a whole, instead of restricting our concern to emergency relief and isolated."

Wisconsin Gets No McCarthy Dynamite

MILWAUKEE (P) — Wisconsin Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy's campaign for re-election may be political dynamite elsewhere but is causing no violent repercussions in his home state.

McCarthy, Republican senatorial nominee, is opposed Nov. 4 by scholarly Thomas E. Fairchild, a stout Democratic vote-getter, who directs his arguments with a personal approach to the man-on-the-street.

McCarthy, on the other hand, is doing virtually no campaigning in the state with only a few radio speeches scheduled in the week before the election. The Junior Republican senator's backers think he'll win by a landslide.

Hasn't Been Silent
The voluble McCarthy, though absent from Wisconsin much of the time since his tremendous victory in the primary, has been far from silent. Pounding away at his Communist-in-government theme, he has appeared on platforms and in front of microphones from Connecticut to Texas, with the same explosive reaction everywhere.

Moreover, he continues to be an issue in the presidential contest. Democratic spokesmen, led by Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson and President Truman, lambast Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's endorsement of the Wisconsin senator. The Republican standardbearer called for the election of the complete GOP slate in Wisconsin when he visited the state recently.

Personal Attacks Avoided
McCarthy piled up a smashing total of 515,481 votes in the September primary—more than the combined vote of all other candidates for the office in both parties. The total Democratic vote was only 191,862 as compared with 759,343 for all Republican senatorial candidates in September. Fairchild won the Democratic nomination by 3,000 votes.

Fairchild, 39, a former attorney-general of Wisconsin, resigned as U. S. attorney for Western Wisconsin to run for senator. He ran against Sen. Alexander Wiley in 1950 and lost, 595,283 to 515,539. Fairchild seldom attacks McCarthy personally as did several of the senator's opponents in the primary. Instead, he stresses McCarthy's voting record which he

British Ban On TV Of Queen Criticized

LONDON (P) — Some Labor members of Parliament today demanded a parliamentary debate on an official decision to ban live television broadcasts of Queen Elizabeth's coronation in Westminster Abbey next June.

Widespread criticism of the decision followed the announcement by the Coronation Commission that live TV shots would be restricted to the royal procession before and after the crowning. The reason for the ban was fear that television might show the Queen too candidly—patting her hair-do or moping her brow.

Newsreel and film shots of the ceremony will be permitted but the films will be censored.

More Soviet Bunk
BERLIN (P) — The Russians protested last night that American authorities are "illegally and forcibly" holding many Soviet children in West Germany against their will and that of their parents.

The protest was made by Ivan F. Semichastnov, acting head of the Soviet Control Commission, to U. S. High Commissioner Walter J. Donnelly.

Nominee Of GOP Misuses Truth, Truman Thinks

By ERNEST B. VACCARO
WITH TRUMAN IN PENNSYLVANIA (P)—President Truman said today that Dwight D. Eisenhower, in calling the social security law a "bipartisan" one, is "taking extreme liberties with the truth."

He said he is not sure if the GOP nominee was "deliberately trying to deceive the people" by such a claim since "it may well be that he just doesn't know the facts of his party's record."

Old Siren Song
At the same time, the President said the general is singing the old Republican siren song "intended to beguile the voters and addle their brains—and cause them to go crashing on the rocks of a Republican victory in the election."

That was in an address prepared for delivery at the Courthouse square in Scranton as he started another day of rugged campaigning.

South Koreans Recapture Hill

By STAN CARTER
SEOUL (P) — South Korean soldiers, scoring a deadly rain of Communist mortar shells, recaptured the bloody crest of Sniper Ridge today in a fierce battle with Chinese Reds.

They battled back to the top of the Central Front hill nine hours after being chased off by about 1,500 Chinese.

The Reds seized the peak just after daybreak. At 8 a. m. they attacked the remnants of the South Korean defenders dug in on the south slope. The South Koreans held, and at 9 a. m. began their counterattack.

For more than six hours they battled slowly up the muddy, shellscarred slopes. The Reds pounded them with shattering barrages of mortar and artillery fire, but still they inched forward.

Then, in a final charge, the ROK troops poured over the top and drove the Chinese back with showers of hand grenades.

Clark's statement was issued after Secretary of Defense Lovett said in Washington the Pentagon had overruled Clark's Sept. 17 order requiring 38 instead of 36 points for rotation.

The Army gives four points a month for time in the battle line. It gives three points monthly to troops serving immediately behind the front and two points a month to troops far to the rear. Troops in Japan get one point monthly if their families are with them, 1½ points monthly otherwise.

Prisoners Pardoned
GUATEMALA, Guatemala (P) — Guatemala's government has pardoned 1,300 prisoners serving terms under five years as part of its program marking the eighth anniversary of the nation's 1944 revolution.

lonia May Be Cut Off Truman Tour

IONIA (P) — Ionia may have to be dropped from President Truman's whistle-stop tour in Michigan Oct. 30. It's a railroad problem.

Mr. Truman is scheduled to come here from Muskegon and Grand Rapids on a Grand Trunk Western line. Then it is planned to switch the train to a Chesapeake & Ohio line to go on to Lansing.

But railroad spokesmen have indicated to Democratic leaders here the switch would take so long it may be necessary to cut Ionia from the itinerary.

WASHINGTON (P) — The Department of Commerce today reported indications that businessmen do not expect any sharp price rises or declines in the near future.

A report in the department publication Current Business said prospects of the biggest overall farm production in the nation's history have lowered farm prices, but prices of consumer goods and industrial raw materials are firm.

WASHINGTON (P) — A long coal strike—possibly extending past the presidential election—seemed in store today with John L. Lewis insisting his miners get all of the pay raise they negotiated with mine owners.

Lewis appears to have turned down a dead-end street by saying striking soft coal miners will return to work only when they get the full $1.90.

Cut Called Thievery
The government's Wage Stabilization Board has shaved 40 cents from this total, saying only $1.50 is allowable under inflation-control policy. Mine owners say they can't violate the government order.

Reducing of negotiated pay raises by the WSB has happened many times in the past, with the unions always accepting the decisions, even though reluctantly.

But Lewis, in a letter to a chief industry negotiator yesterday, fired a bitter verbal barrage at WSB members and other stabilization officials.

Lewis said the WSB action was an "attempted thievery" of milk money from miners' babies.

There seemed no way out of the impasse.

Truman Is Target For Eggs; Latest In Campaign Mishaps

By ARTHUR EDSON
WASHINGTON (P) — A lot of unscheduled things are happening in this political campaign.

A temporary ramp collapses, an elevator gets stuck, the loudspeaker fails, trains pull out with the candidate still talking, a firecracker explodes in a crowd with the sound of a gunshot, a television prompter slows down, causing a candidate to blurt out: "Yah, damn it," and now, the egg toppers.

Apology For Cussword
Yesterday somebody pitched a couple of eggs in President Truman's general direction while he was addressing a crowd in Jersey City, N. J. They landed at least 25 feet away from him and he gave no sign of having seen them.

The Republicans have had the most trouble. Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, who apologized for the broadcast "damn it," even though he said he didn't recall saying it, was in the one mishap that could have had tragic consequences.

He had just finished a speech in Richmond, Va., and was acknowledging a big hand.

Groggy From Bump
Mamie Eisenhower, preceding her husband down a temporary ramp from the platform jutting out from the State Capitol Building, remarked:

"I don't like the way this thing feels. I'm afraid it might fall."

Less than a minute later it did fall, six feet to the ground—with Eisenhower still on it.

Fortunately, no one was hurt. Eisenhower was thrown to his knees, but he quickly rose, dusted himself off and grinned reassuringly to the crowd.

Less spectacular, but more painful, was a bump on the head that Eisenhower received in Chicago when his train was tripped to an abrupt halt by a mechanical failure.

"I've felt groggy all day," he said later.

Sen. Moody And Potter Tangle

(By The Associated Press)
Sen. Blair Moody, Democratic appointee to the U. S. Senate, claimed in a campaign speech yesterday that big automobile companies are financing his Republican opponent, Charles E. Potter, in the November senatorial election.

Moody, who has been lambasting his opposition as "the big interests," didn't name any automobile companies.

Meanwhile, Potter, now a representative in Congress, renewed his charge that Moody is a captive of the CIO-PAC.

The Democratic party, Potter contended, has been captured "lock, stock and barrel" by the CIO-PAC, the Americans for Democratic Action (ADA) and "big city bosses who derive their power through graft and corruption."

Moody's husband Joseph, 25; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rogosky, Sr., between 65 and 70, and their 18-year-old son, John.

The blast was heard three miles away. Its cause had not been determined.

Home Blast Kills Family Of Five

LATROBE, Pa. (P) — A mysterious blast which levelled a two-story home two miles north of this southwestern Pennsylvania town wiped out a family of five last night.

One of the victims was a 19-year-old expectant mother, Mrs. Hazel Rogosky. A caesarian operation failed to save her child and Mrs. Rogosky died soon afterwards.

Other victims were the woman's husband Joseph, 25; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rogosky, Sr., between 65 and 70, and their 18-year-old son, John.

The blast was heard three miles away. Its cause had not been determined.

Cuban Girl Has Rare Disease From Rat Bite

HAVANA, Cuba (P) — President Fulgencio Batista's wife has given $4,000 for an operation in Boston, Mass., for a Cuban girl suffering a strange illness incurred from a rat bite in her childhood.

The Ministry of Information said Senora Batista made the gift for 18-year-old Acacia Segura, who is suffering a disease which has damaged her jawbone. The ministry said Dr. V. H. Kazanjian of Boston would operate on her.

In Prices Expected

WASHINGTON (P) — The Department of Commerce today reported indications that businessmen do not expect any sharp price rises or declines in the near future.

Dairies Sued,
Call OPS Nuts

DETROIT (P) — Suits for damages totaling nearly $100,000 filed yesterday by the Office of Price Stabilization against two Detroit creameries for allegedly overcharging in the sale of milk to the Detroit Board of Education brought this comment from one creamery official:

"The OPS is nuts."

Named in the Federal Court actions were the Family Creamery and the Central Creamery.

In applying the term "nuts" to OPS, John W. Zadel, vice president of Central Creamery, said:

"They don't know what they are talking about. We did $130,000 worth of sales with the Board of Education and the profit was $13,137."

A government attorney said the overcharging was computed from October, 1951, to June, 1952, and involved the sale of half pints of milk to Detroit schools.

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (P) — A former high school honor student who admitted he tried to extort $750 from a girl through a threatening letter has been indicted by a federal grand jury.

Larry P. Fudge, 20, was charged yesterday with extortion by use of U. S. mail. He was arrested by FBI agents last August near a spot designated for the payoff in the letter, which was signed "Phantom Gunman."

The life of Carole Mae Kingsley, a high school student, was threatened in the letter, authorities said.

Millions Want Ike In Dixie, Taft Declares

RICHMOND, Va. (P) — Sen. Robert A. Taft says he is confident that "millions of Southern Democrats" will vote for Dwight D. Eisenhower "because they, like Virginia's Sen. Byrd, are opposed to President Truman's policies of all-powerful government domination."

Addressing a cheering Republican rally of 1,300 here last night, Taft expressed "the greatest respect for Byrd, who last week declined to support Gov. Adlai Stevenson."

Nobody Surrendered
The Ohio Republican called the Virginia Democrat's speech "one of the clearest, frankest statements" of the presidential campaign.

In his talk last week, Byrd refused to endorse Stevenson because he said he felt the Democratic nominee is too close to the Truman administration and its policies. He made no mention of Eisenhower or the Republicans.

Taft pictured Stevenson as "disappointed" because he (Taft) and Eisenhower "agree on so many issues." That, he said, is why the Democrats are saying the general has "surrendered" to him.

"Nobody has surrendered to anybody," Taft declared. He added that Stevenson cannot point to anything that shows either Eisenhower or Taft "has departed from the principles we have always believed in."

Socialism Ahead?
Most of Taft's 45-minute address was devoted to an indictment of the Democratic administration, which he said poses the threat of "big government" to the nation's freedoms.

He accused the Truman administration of "softness for communism."

Gunfire Fatal To 3 In Michigan

(By The Associated Press)
One more death by gunfire—bringing the total toll to three—was recorded today as Southern Michigan's small game and pheasant season moved into its third day.

A third person also died of a heart attack attributed to hunting. Douglas Allen, 18, of Hazelton township in Shiawassee County died in University Hospital at Ann Arbor Tuesday night of a bullet wound in the head. He was hit by a .22 caliber bullet while hunting with a group of friends near his home.

State Police said they were puzzled by the circumstances. None of Allen's party was carrying a .22 caliber rifle.

Also in Shiawassee County Charles Smithgall, 77-year-old farmer, died early today of a heart attack which authorities said apparently was brought on by hunting.

Two hunters died of wounds Tuesday.

First Voters Meet Oct. 27

A party in honor of first voters will be held by the League of Women Voters at the K-C hall the evening of Monday, Oct. 27, it has been announced.

The program will feature informative material concerning the election procedures and will be strictly nonpartisan. Although the party is designed primarily for persons voting for the first time in a national election, anyone may attend. Refreshments will be served after the program and there will be no charge.

Miss Nina Ley, high school government teacher, will describe the electoral college and how it operates. George Harvey, Escanaba city clerk, will review election procedures and Clint Dunathan, of the Escanaba Press, will review the amendments. The program will provide adequate opportunity for questions concerning the election and the voting procedures.

Mrs. Ruth Neumeier, voter service chairman of the League of Women Voters, will be in charge of the program.

Guardsmen Undertake Job Of Extending Rink At Exhibition Building

When Escanaba's famed figure and speed skaters and formidable hockey players start skating at the U. P. fairgrounds exhibition building this season, they can thank the Delta County National Guard company for providing a longer rink.

Work of increasing the length of the rink in the present building got off to a rousing start last night when the men of Company C under the command of Capt. Roy Johnson and Lieutenants George Anderson, Eldred Sattlem and Steve Fraddo began dismantling the north balcony and leveling the concrete floor beneath the south balcony.

By flooding the rink from the north wall to the south wall, the length of the ice surface will be increased to almost 150 feet, and the width will remain the same, or 80 feet.

Much Better Rink

This will be considerably better than the 120x80 rink surface the Escanaba hockey club has had to use during its first two seasons in the fast Northern Michigan-Wisconsin league. A regulation rink is 200x85 but most rinks in Upper Michigan are approximately 195x80, such arenas as the Calumet Armory, Houghton's Dpe Stadium, Marquette's Palstra and Sault Ste. Marie's Pullar Stadium.

Plans are underway to construct an 80-foot extension to the U. P. fair exhibition building, which would give the local team a 200x80 playing surface and put Escanaba on a par with other sports-minded communities in the Upper Peninsula.

At a meeting here Sunday, Oct. 12, the U. P. Fair Board approved the project of remodeling the interior of the exhibition building to provide the maximum ice surface possible in the present construction. In addition, the work now underway will provide space for approximately 400 more spectators. It will increase the seating capacity from 1,000 to 1,400.

They're Hard Workers

Delta County members of Upper Michigan's 107th Engineer Combat Battalion went at their work with a will last night.

Using their army engineer know-how to good advantage — they won several awards at the regular summer encampment at Camp Grayling — they almost completed dismantling the north balcony and broke up about 24 square yards of six-inch concrete at the south end. Leveling the area under the south balcony will provide 12 more feet of playing surface at that end.

"I've never seen a group of young men work as hard," John MacInnis, secretary of the U. P. State Fair Board, commented when he stopped in to see the project.

Work Like Beavers

"They look like a bunch of beavers swarming all over the balcony and working without a stop. They are certainly getting a lot done in one night."

"Undertaking this project represents a real contribution to the community," he emphasized.

"Completion of it will provide Escanaba and the people in this whole area with a much finer indoor rink than they ever had before. I am looking forward to the day when the whole project will be completed — the 80-foot extension to the building."

Sgt. Lloyd Lessard, Cpl. Conrad Pratt and Pfc Dave Livermore handled the rock drill and pavement breaker off the truck-mounted air compressor, standard equipment of an engineer combat company, and Pvt. Dudley Lund was in charge of the cleanup squad.

Hockey Players Help

Electricians on the job, also members of Company C, were Sgt. Lloyd Russell and Sgt. Gerald LeDuc. Squad leaders, rated as construction foremen, supervising and helping out were Sergeants Benny Wells, Charles Fish, Kenneth Lessard, Earl Sovey, Mel Larson, Joseph Simons and Charles Oslund. Platoon sergeants on duty last night were Clint Marenger, Lloyd Lessard and Frank Schmidt.

Hockey players on hand to help out and serve coffee and rolls to the hungry men after the night's work was completed were Joe Ricci, Mark and Ted Olson, George Petaja and Leslie Rose.

"The way these Guardsmen worked tonight they'll finish the job during their regular drill period next Tuesday night," Capt. Johnson said.

Pedestrian Safety Stressed Through State-Wide Drive

Safety Director G. S. Leonard today announced that Escanaba is cooperating on the fall Pedestrian Protection program sponsored by the State Safety Commission, the Michigan Association of Chiefs of Police, the Michigan Sheriff's Association, the Automobile Club of Michigan and many other organizations interested in safety.

According to Director Leonard the official slogan for the safety campaign will be "Be Alert For Wacky Walkers". This points out that in at least half of the pedestrian accidents the pedestrian was more at fault than the motorist.

"By calling to the attention of motorists the amusing antics of Wacky Walkers which are dangerous it is hoped that fewer pedestrians will be hit", Leonard said.

In the fall of the year it gets dark earlier and more pedestrians are harder to see as people walk and drive to work and back. The special hazard is that the man on foot is hard to see and he doesn't know it.

In conclusion Leonard said, "The privilege of owning a driver's license is a serious thing. It carries with it the special responsibility of watching out for pedestrians. Any motorist who

St. Joseph's Plans Bus Runs

Bust transportation from North Escanaba and the southwest part of the city to St. Joseph school will be provided for students by St. Joseph parish beginning Nov. 3.

Decision to furnish transportation facilities for students was made at a meeting of a special St. Joseph parish committee last night. Members of the committee were from the St. Joseph Home and School association, St. Joseph Booster club and the church organization.

About 150 students will be transported under present arrangements, which were made particularly for grade school students and students living at a distance from St. Joseph High School.

Purchase of another bus is contemplated later. At present St. Joseph school has one bus, operated by Bernard Ammel and Elmer Bonifas Jr.

Tentative route of the bus in the southwest part of Escanaba is: out Lake Shore Drive to Sylvan Point, up 23rd street to Ludington, South 18th street to 10th avenue south, to 14th street, back to Ludington street, and thence to St. Joseph school on South Eighth street.

Parents of children in the Catholic school who want transportation for their children are asked to contact Father Stephen Schneider, O.F.M., pastor. A donation will be asked from each family whose children ride the bus.

The bus will operate only within the city limits and will stop at various specified corners. It is planned to operate the bus during the winter months.

Several preliminary meetings of the Home and School association, the St. Joe Booster club and the church committee were held earlier.

Arrangements with St. Thomas parish to transport about 65 students to Catholic schools here were made about two weeks ago.

Funeral Services Held Today For Mrs. Thibodeau

Funeral services were held today for Mrs. Clarence J. (Pauline) Thibodeau, 35, of 1014 Second avenue south, who died at 11:40 p. m., Sunday night in St. Mary hospital in Marquette. She had been a patient for three weeks.

Mrs. Thibodeau mother of three children, was born Oct. 22, 1916 in Marquette. She graduated from Baraga High School and attended Northern Michigan College of Education. She was a member of Beta Sigma Phi sorority.

She leaves her husband; two sons, Dale John and Jerry Paul; a daughter, Carol Ann; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gravelle of Marquette; a sister, Mrs. Robert Ruecker of Marquette, and a brother, Albert Gravelle, of Niagara Falls, N. Y.

Funeral services were held from St. John church in Marquette at 9 a. m., today and burial was in Holy Cross cemetery at Marquette.

Two Slightly Injured In Cornell Accident

Curtis Blesser, 66, of Rapid River, and John C. Ring, 32, of Cornell, suffered minor injuries in a collision four miles southwest of Cornell last night.

Blesser, who was going north on county road E9, suffered head lacerations, when the right side of his car was struck by the left front of Ring's car at the intersection of county roads E9 and E18.

The Blesser car was knocked into a ditch and Ring's car rolled over, Michigan State police of the Gladstone post report.

Ring sustained abrasions of both legs. The accident occurred at 6 p. m., yesterday. Neither was hospitalized and no traffic tickets were issued.

Escanaba Man Dies In Sleep

George M. Chaukkin, 83, a resident of Escanaba for nearly 50 years, died in his sleep early this morning at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Iver Wallin, 216<sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub> N. 11th.

He was born March 17, 1869 in Au Sable, N. Y., and came to the Upper Peninsula in 1872. He lived at Marquette for a brief period, moving to Escanaba where he has resided continuously since. He was a carpenter by trade and a member of St. Ann's Church.

He is survived by four daughters, Mrs. Arsene Beauchamp, Mrs. Walter Pelkey, Mrs. Iver Wallin and Mrs. Gladys Chaput; and three sons, Roy Chaukkin, Bark River; Reuben, Milwaukee; and Leonard, of Elkhorn, Wis. Thirty-one grandchildren and 24 great grandchildren also survive.

Friends may call at the Alto Funeral Home beginning Thursday at two o'clock. Funeral services will be held Friday morning at nine o'clock at St. Ann chapel and burial will be in Holy Cross cemetery. The Rosary will be recited at the funeral home Thursday night.

2 Escanabans At Milwaukee School Of Engineering

Two Escanaba students have enrolled in the Milwaukee School of Engineering, Milwaukee, Wis., to the fall term.

Dale A. Heidenreich, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Heidenreich, 1022 9th ave., and Kevill J. Murphy, son of Mr. and Mrs. John K. Murphy, 320 S. 14th st., have registered in the engineering courses of the school. Murphy is majoring in mechanical engineering, while Heidenreich is registered in the electrical engineering course (electronics).

Murphy is a graduate of St. Joseph's high school and is an Air Force veteran with four years of service. Heidenreich, an Army veteran with 45 months of service, graduated from Escanaba Senior high school and attended Michigan College of Mining and Technology.

Old Building Here Destroyed By Fire

GLADSTONE—An unoccupied building on the corner of Montana avenue and Fifth street was destroyed by fire of undetermined origin at 10 p. m., last night. The building, which had not been lived in for years, was a two-story frame dwelling. City firemen used four lines, one to protect a neighboring home, in controlling the fire. Gladstone firemen yesterday also extinguished four grass fires.

Potatoes, Trophies And Queens In Show Program

Highlighting the 1952 Delta County Potato Show tomorrow will be a program in the evening at Cornell Town Hall, where winners in the annual Potato Booster contest and the Potato Queen contest will be announced.

The program at Cornell is scheduled to start at 8:15 p. m. Dancing will follow the program. Lunch will be served. During the day, starting at 10 a. m. at the Escanaba Machine Company, 1704 Ludington, the county's finest potatoes will be on display. The public is invited to attend.

Yields Are Good

William Cargo, Marquette, crops specialist for Michigan State College extension service, will judge the potatoes entered by the growers.

J. L. Heirman, Delta agricultural agent, reported that yields this year have been good in most sections of the county. Whether any records will be set will have to await announcement of trophy winners at the Cornell program tomorrow night.

Last year's state champion was Rene Vanacker of Wallace, Menominee county, with a yield of 1,061 bushels an acre.

To Present Awards

Awards in the Potato Booster Contest will be presented at Cornell following announcements made by representatives of the Potato Boosters.

James Jackson will announce the 4-H Club potato grower winners; George Grenholm the awards in the progress division of the tablestock growers; Clint Dunathan the tablestock winners; William Cargo will award the trophy in the 32-tuber sweepstakes class; and Bruce Brackett will present awards to the certified seed growers.

Speakers on the program will be County Agent Heirman and Fred Bernhardt, Delta 4-H Club agent.

Five Queen Candidates

One of the highlights of the Cornell program will be the announcement of the 1952 Potato Queen, who will be crowned by Art Goulais of Escanaba.

Five Delta county young women, four selected by Home Extension groups and the fifth by Perkins High School students, will compete for the title of queen. They are:

Everell Miron, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Miron, Cornell; Gloria Saari, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Toivo Saari of Rock; Marlene Piontek, daughter of Max Piontek of Bark River; Patricia

PEOPLE from EVERY PART of MICHIGAN PRAISE O-JIB-WA

Many customers proudly tell us of the wonderful results that they are getting from O-JIB-WA BITTERS. In appreciation, these sufferers from rheumatism, arthritis and stomach trouble relate their experiences below. Their recommendations are offered here as more convincing proof that O-JIB-WA BITTERS is worth your trial.

Mr. Young
Battle Creek

"Nothing under the sun helped me before I tried O-JIB-WA BITTERS. I want to publicly recommend it to other people suffering with arthritis and neuritis. For two years my left arm was affected so badly with arthritis that it was practically paralyzed, and I couldn't raise or move it. Thanks to O-JIB-WA BITTERS, I am completely better now and advise everyone to try this wonderful medicine on my recommendation. I can't begin to express my appreciation for what it has done for me."

Mr. Matthews
Flint

"About a year ago, I had arthritis in my knees so bad I could hardly walk. My hands were so numb and crippled up, that I couldn't close my fist and the pain in my back was so fierce I could hardly stand it. I read so much about O-JIB-WA BITTERS I decided to try it. I had tried everything else without results. O-JIB-WA really did me good. All my pains completely left me and the stiffness has entirely disappeared."

Mr. Jordan
Detroit

"I suffered over five years with arthritis in both hands. Housework was very difficult and wash days were unbearable. My fingers got so stiff I could hardly bend them. I read a testimonial for O-JIB-WA BITTERS and decided to try it. In two weeks, there was truly as much difference as night and day. The lumps on my fingers got smaller and the pain and stiffness soon left me. O-JIB-WA BITTERS also helped settle my nerves and stomach. I urge all sufferers of Rheumatism and Arthritis to try O-JIB-WA BITTERS."

Mr. Blazek
Escanaba

"I took O-JIB-WA BITTERS for gas, indigestion, bloating and heartburn and it really helped me. Before using O-JIB-WA, I was troubled with my stomach for over six years. Everything I ate seemed to turn to gas. I would bloat up so that it was hard to catch my breath. Several friends recommended O-JIB-WA BITTERS, and in just a week, I was much better. I am completely better now and eat anything without the slightest fear of suffering from gas and indigestion. Unfortunately, I suffered six years before I tried O-JIB-WA."

An Open Letter To The Voters Of Delta County

Several months ago I announced that I intended to seek reelection to the office of Probate Judge. In seeking reelection, I submit my record in this office for your scrutiny and approval. I did not make this record alone. I take this opportunity to acknowledge the services and cooperation of the other members of my staff. I do this gladly and with a deep sense of gratitude and appreciation.

Miss Marie D. Peters has been Probate Register continuously during my incumbency, during all the years of Judge Mileski's incumbency and several years of Judge Yelland's term of office.

Miss Peters' many years of service to the people of Delta County and the knowledge of probate law and the court procedures she has gained through these years of service is invaluable to the Court and to the attorneys who practice in the Probate Court.

Mrs. Glen C. Larson of Wells is the recording clerk. She is an expert in recording procedures. Her services are too valuable to lose at this or any other time.

James W. Fitzpatrick is County Agent. He was appointed by Governor Harry F. Kelly in 1945. He makes the home investigations and files his reports in writing of adoptions, in applications for State aid to Crippled and Afflicted children, in all matters involving juvenile problems. He is also conveyor of children to the Michigan Children's Clinic at Marquette, to the University State Hospital at Ann Arbor, also conveys juvenile delinquents under commitment to the State Schools for Boys and Girls.

I believe it is good business and assures continued efficiency and better service to continue this staff under the leadership of your present Judge of Probate. It is just another illustration of my campaign slogan—EXPERIENCE AND TRAINING COUNT!

Direct Air Service To Lower Peninsula May Be Reestablished

THE reestablishment of direct air service between the two peninsulas of Michigan is indicated by approval granted by the Civil Aeronautics Board to Wisconsin Central Airlines for this service. The board also authorized the company to change its name to North Central Airlines, Inc.

Nationwide Airlines maintained service between the two peninsulas for several years, abandoning the line only when it became apparent that the company could not get federal certification. Recently Wisconsin Central bought out Nationwide and Lake Central Airline, thus ending the controversy that has existed between these air carriers.

Direct air service between the two peninsulas is important service to residents of the Upper Peninsula. It provides speedy transportation from the tip of the peninsula to Detroit, a trip that otherwise takes a full day or more by car, bus or train.

If this direct service is maintained by Wisconsin Central—or North Central, as it will be called henceforth—Upper Peninsula communities that have been opposing Wisconsin Central in the past will welcome the new carrier with open arms.

Reds Join Socialist Party In Britain

BRITONS who have viewed the Communist element as little more than a lunatic fringe which they could afford to ignore are getting a bit of a shock.

They are hearing that the Reds have wormed their way into the Socialist Party, one of the two major political groups in the nation, in disturbing numbers. And the charges have been coming from the Socialists themselves.

Party bigwigs, including Herbert Morrison, deputy to Head Man Clement Attlee, are saying in their official newspaper, "It is high time that eyes were opened to how very real is the menace of communism."

The Reds are active in the leftist bloc of the party led by Aneurin Bevan.

Bevan, for all his anti-American sentiment and extreme programs, cannot be called a Communist. But his opponents say it is apparent that the Communists have chosen him as their best hope for disrupting British-U. S. relations.

Bevan won a victory over the party Old Guard at the recent Socialist conference in Morecambe. And the Old Guard is giving much of the credit for that victory to the Reds and fellow travelers.

The Bevan wing elected all six of its candidates to the party's policy-making executive committee, gaining prestige and a great psychological triumph. Among those displaced was the moderate Morrison, a friend of the U. S.

It should not be implied that the Communists are close to grabbing control either of the Labor Party or of Britain itself. That just isn't true.

Leaders of the big trade unions which dominate the party financially and numerically openly detest Bevan and have pledged to fight "Bevanism" to a finish.

But party leaders are convinced that tolerance of Reds and fellow travelers must no longer be allowed in the organization's rank and file and in trade unions. They—along with large segments of the British people—have had a scare.

The Doctor Says . . . Shingles May Develop With Or After Acute Infections

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. — Written for NEA Service

An attack of shingles, or herpes zoster as it is known medically, is merely an unpleasant experience which fades into a memory for most victims of this peculiar disorder.

For some, however, particularly elderly people, shingles is a severe, long-lasting affliction, causing a great deal of suffering, tending the patience of the individual, and presenting a real problem of medical care.

Judging by the constant stream of letters received by this column on the subject of shingles, the latter situation is by no means uncommon.

Herpes is an acute inflammation accompanied by characteristic blisters on the skin, involving only that part of the skin which is reached by certain nerves. It occurs on one side of the body only and is especially common around the chest, just over and parallel to the ribs, on the forehead, face, lower back and abdomen.

The blisters (which appear several days after the pain starts) begin to open and dry up in a few days and finally disappear altogether. In young and middle-aged people this is about all there is to it, but in older people severe neuralgic pains often last for months.

Herpes may develop with or immediately after acute infections like a pneu-

Up to now, the airline officials have insisted upon including Green Bay, Wisconsin in the flight schedule between the two peninsulas of Michigan. This dogleg part of the journey serves only to increase the travel time between Upper Michigan and Detroit, and also to increase the fare as the additional mileage would necessarily show up in higher transportation costs.

Coal Miners Strike Against Government

THE strike of soft coal workers is not a strike against the coal companies because they have already agreed to meet the union's demands for a $1.90 per day pay raise.

The strike is against the United States government, because it was a government agency, the Wage Stabilization Board, that cut 40c a day from the pay boost.

The coal industry has appealed to Union Boss John L. Lewis to order his men back to work. It is a fair and reasonable request because the industry is not responsible for the wage unhappiness of the coal miners. Further, Lewis has complete control over the miners. If he tells them to go back to their jobs, they will return. And, of course, Lewis knows that it is not the mine owners who are the cause of the disagreement.

The strike won't last long. Lewis has announced his support of Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic nominee, in the Nov. 4 election and the Wage Stabilization Board is a Democratic agency. A long strike of coal workers would prove extremely embarrassing to the Democratic organization. If John L. Lewis is sincere in his support of Stevenson, he will act to avoid a situation that could decrease Stevenson's chances of victory in November.

Other Editorial Comments

SAFETY IN NUMBERS (Christian Science Monitor)

It's an old saying that "There's safety in numbers." The statement has much more than a humorous significance when applied to the security of nations. Freedom from attack depends in large degree on collective action, and collective responsibility for peace is primarily illustrated today in the United Nations defense of Korea.

The appeal of Secretary Acheson in the UN General Assembly for more widespread support of that action by UN member nations was effectively reinforced by T. Clifton Webb, Foreign Minister of New Zealand. Mr. Webb spoke not of Korea alone but of collective security in general. Said he:

Mere verbal or voting support is not enough . . . The military and economic burdens of collective action must be borne by the majority of states supporting the action rather than by a willing minority.

Americans generally supported the initial decision to resist Communist aggression in Korea, and we believe they see the wisdom of staying—in Mr. Acheson's words—"as long as is necessary to stop the aggression and to restore peace and security in Korea." But the effect of that undertaking is to benefit the whole world. Consequently, the people of South Korea and of the United States have legitimate reason to expect substantial tangible support from other nations whose safety is indirectly at stake.

A number, such as Britain, France, Canada, Turkey, Australia, New Zealand, Thailand, the Philippines, Greece, the Netherlands, and Belgium, have furnished troops and supplies. But there are nations in Latin America and some other parts of the world which have made only nominal contributions or none at all and which could well afford to do much more in the interests of their own eventual security.

Maxim Litvinoff once declared to the League of Nations in Geneva that "peace is indivisible." So today is security—and the responsibility for it.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Republican leaders put all sorts of pressure on GOP Senator Wayne Morse of Oregon to keep him from bolting to Stevenson. Shortly before Morse issued his statement deserting the Republican ticket, Senator Fred Seaton of Nebraska, who has been close to Morse in the Senate, telephoned him from New York, inviting him to travel on the Eisenhower train. Morse declined.

For more than a month prior to this, however, a succession of Republican leaders, including ex-Governor Stassen of Minnesota, had come to see the senator from Oregon. One of them dropped in on Morse just after Eisenhower had endorsed Senator Jenner in Indiana.

"The General didn't want to make that endorsement," he explained. "After he saw Jenner he came back to his hotel and said, 'That—, I'd much rather have punched him in the nose!'"

This made Morse even less enthusiastic. "That shows him up more than ever as a hypocrite," he exploded. "At the same time he said that, he also stood up and told the American people to vote for Jenner."

"He did the same thing at the surrender of Morningside Heights to Senator Taft," "That was no surrender," replied the Eisenhower emissary. "That was arranged to save Taft's face."

"What?" exclaimed the senator from Oregon. "Why Eisenhower wasn't even given the courtesy of being at the press conference where Taft announced the terms of the surrender?"

UNITED GOP FRONT

The emissary argued that the General was merely trying to bring unity in the party. He said he had to appease some of the old guard and bring about a united front. "But," he continued, "you will be the man he'll call to the White House for consultation after he's elected."

"On the contrary," replied Morse, "if you read that Taft statement issued after the 'surrender,' you'll see that Eisenhower agreed not to discriminate against Taft people, and you now what that means. That means the Taft people will be running the party."

"I happen to have been the first Republican to come out for Eisenhower," Morse continued. "But this is not the Eisenhower I know. I can't be for this Eisenhower. Reach over and punch the cash register: 'no sale!'"

First efforts to keep Senator Morse in line occurred prior to Labor Day, when Eisenhower leaders wanted the Oregonian's help to swing the American Federation of Labor over to Eisenhower, or at least keep them from endorsing Stevenson. To this end, Governor Stassen, who wrote the General's speech delivered at the AF of L convention, came down to Washington and spent 2-1/2 hours with Morse. However, he made no headway.

"This man compromises with his principles," argued the senator. "He has deserted the liberal wing of the Republican party in order to get elected. And that's what you did too, Harold."

Stassen passed over this reference to the fact that he was once leader of GOP liberals. He urged that Morse come to New York and sit on the platform with Eisenhower when he addressed the AFL. But Morse said no.

"That would just show that I was giving my blessing to something I didn't agree with," he replied. "It's too late for me to advise you on the General's speech anyway. I've just been invited by Bill Green to answer it."

MORSE AND LABOR

At this, Stassen nearly jumped out of his chair. After he returned to New York, however, another Eisenhower emissary came to Washington to urge Morse not to differ with Eisenhower in the AFL speech he was to make the following day.

"This is the hardest job I ever had to do," said the emissary.

"I'll make it easy for you," replied Morse. "Go back and tell headquarters that I've agreed not to change a single line of my speech. I had planned to rewrite it and make it ten times tougher, but in view of your visit I won't change it."

The speech as written and later delivered, of course, was much tougher than Eisenhower leaders wanted.

Senator Morse's final decision to bolt the Republican party was made after Eisenhower toured New Jersey.

"When I read those speeches in New Jersey," Morse explained to friends, "and saw the General's claim that he hadn't deserted his principles, I couldn't stand it any longer. I told my wife I was going to sleep on it, then get up next morning and take myself completely out of the political picture. Next morning I felt the same way I did the night before."

"It's political suicide, I know," concluded Morse, "but I've got to live with myself no matter who's elected."

Showdown On 'Non Service' Cases Tops Veterans' Hospital Muddle

By DOUGLAS LARSEN

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Two-thirds of the patients in Veterans Administration hospitals, almost half of whom are mental cases, eventually may be forced out on the street.

This could result from an approaching showdown on whether or not sick veterans, whose trouble has nothing to do with their service, should be treated in VA hospitals.

At present there are 36,182 patients in VA hospitals whose trouble results from their military service, while 67,529 of them are being treated for illnesses which have nothing to do with service, the so-called non-service-connected cases.

According to spokesmen for the national veterans organizations, the ousting of the non-service-connected cases is the goal of a "clique" in congress, some VA officials and some anti-veteran groups.

However, according to the experts on veterans affairs, the nation's whole veteran program will soon have to be opened up for study in light of world events. Never before has the U. S. had more than one million men per year becoming veterans, with no end to the problem in sight. It could mean that eventually just about every male taxpayer will be a veteran.

The present hospital situation just happens to be the one phase of the total vet future problem to be headed for a crisis first. It is also the most complicated aspect of it.

Helping to confuse the whole VA medical problem are congressional boondoggling, rising costs of medicine generally, a drastic shortage of hospital personnel, the Korean war and even the issue of socialized medicine.

The trigger setting off of the medical crisis was a $31 million cut made in VA's hospital budget by the 82nd Congress. It was forced Admiral Joel T. Boone, VA medical director, to make some drastic cuts in the service.

He had to reduce the total VA hospital capacity of 110,243 beds to 99,200 beds. This is in the face of a waiting list of 22,500 non-service-connected cases.

The most unexplainable fact is that at the same time Congress is making cuts in existing facilities, it is permitting VA to construct a total of 22 brand new hospitals with 13,231 beds. If Congress refuses to give VA enough money to operate the beds it has, why build more facilities?

Politics is the answer, according to some. The new hospitals are just going up in the districts of important congressmen, they say. The congressmen responsible for the cuts claim that VA can keep up its present service and absorb the cuts through economies. The best medical brains of the veterans organizations deny this. So does Adm. Boone.

Adm. Boone does claim, however, that all of the hospitals being built are in districts which need them and where staff members would be willing to live. He says that figuring out how to run them after they are built is the problem of Congress.

Dr. Leonard G. Rowntree, chairman of the American Legion Medical Advisory Board, claims that one of the immediate effects of the cut will be to cause a deterioration of the quality of VA medical care. "This opinion," he says, "is based on the fact that reduced appropriations create a feeling of insecurity among the VA medical and surgical personnel."

The law states that veterans with non-service-connected ailments can receive treatment in VA hospitals if they can't afford treatment in private hospitals, and if space is available.

It is this provision which spokesmen for the Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars and Disabled American Veterans claim that certain congressmen are trying to circumvent by illogical cuts in appropriations. A top Legion man says:

"What other reason could there possibly be for cutting back VA's hospital appropriations at a time when the Korean war is adding more patients to the load all the time. It's obvious that they want to end up cutting out non-service-connected medical treatment in this way. They are just afraid to face the real issue head on."

VFW and DAV spokesmen agree on this point. The DAV man says:

"What most opponents to giving all veterans medical care don't realize is that the medical care they have received has saved the cost of a general pension to all World War I vets. If they hadn't had this care they would have demanded and received a pension."

Adm. Boone claims that the critics of giving non-service-connected medical care don't understand the whole problem. He points out that of the non-service-connected cases in VA hospitals, 9728 have tuberculosis, 27,254 are mental cases and most of the rest have such chronic diseases as heart trouble or are paraplegics. He says:

"When you boil those figures down there are only a very few patients in VA hospitals whom the private hospitals would want as patients. They can't afford to pay for their own medical care. And if they aren't in VA hospitals they will have to be taken care of in some other tax-supported institution or be allowed to die in the street."

If anyone is trying to force a showdown on non-service-connected cases that is the problem that they are eventually going to arrive at. In one way or another the taxpayer is going to have to foot the bill for their care."

Good Evening . . .

By CLINT DUNATHAN

GENEROUS RESPONSE—Back in September, you may recall, this column presented a plea from Pvt. Kenny Beaudoin, now in service in Korea, for clothing for Korean children.

The shoes and other clothing and gifts of toys are to be presented to the children at a Christmas party in Pusan, sponsored by the GIs.

"To these people who are continually exposed to Communist propaganda, an American Santa Claus will be reassurance of our faith and trust," Pvt. Beaudoin wrote.

To his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Med Beaudoin of 306 South Ninth St., Pvt. Beaudoin confided that "nobody except we who have seen them knows the need of these children."

It is a pleasure to report that the response to Pvt. Beaudoin's plea has been quick and generous.

ORGANIZING THE DRIVE—Besides the individuals who sent contributions, one organization in particular took up the task of collecting and mailing children's clothing.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary, Mrs. E. J. Kallio, chairman, reports that ten boxes, each weighing 19 pounds, were mailed out. The VFW Auxiliary paid the postage.

Articles of clothing, for adults as well as children, swelled the contributions. One truckload alone came from a contributor at Perkins.

Included in the shipment was 28 pairs of shoes. Pvt. Beaudoin had mentioned that shoes were badly needed.

NOTE OF THANKS—"We wish to send this note of thanks to all of those who contributed so generously in giving clothing and toys for the Korean children's Christmas party," said Mrs. Kallio.

Named are Mr. and Mrs. Francis Rodgers, Mrs. Lavern Porter, Mrs. Burt Webber, Mrs. Roy Norkola, Mrs. Lowell Hebbard, Mrs. Tom Erickson, Walter Wilson, Jeanne Hanson and Mrs. Tom Needham.

Two other families who contributed left no names. All members of the VFW Auxiliary helped swell the boxes of gifts.

"Thank you all," Mrs. Kallio said.

MANY OTHERS GAVE—There were many persons who contributed to swell the volume of gifts on their way to Korea. Many of the names are unknown to us.

But Mrs. Beaudoin, Kenny's mother, tells me that her son is keeping a list of all the names of contributors so that he may send them a letter of thanks.

In a letter from Pvt. Beaudoin received by his mother yesterday, he wrote that he had received letters from many Escanaba people who told him they were sending packages. Other persons have told Mrs. Beaudoin that they are sending gifts.

Mrs. Mae C. Richards of 415 High St., Marquette, while visiting in Escanaba at the time the first column story appeared, did not forget the appeal it contained when she returned to her home.

She wrote Mrs. Beaudoin that she had packed a large box to send to Korea and that her daughter also was planning to send a gift for Korea's "orphans of war."

MEETING THE NEED—Mrs. Gilmore of 208 South 16th St. read the column and decided to send a package—but she found not enough children's clothing for a package despite the fact the Somes have four youngsters.

Neighbors answered her appeal and also contributed articles. The helpers included Mrs. T. A. Gagnon, Mrs. Raoul Chevalier, Mrs. William Moorehead and Mrs. Doris Dubev.

Now the package was ready—but the cost of postage was high. Fortunately at that moment Mrs. Robert Hughes, who had known Pvt. Kenny Beaudoin when he played ball here on a team sponsored by her husband, telephoned Mrs. Beaudoin and offered to help.

The money she contributed not only paid the postage but left enough to purchase soap and towels to include in the package. Another gift was on its way to the Christmas party for children in Pusan.

Note: Postmaster Regina W. Cleary tells me that packages mailed here by Nov. 1 will reach Pusan in time for Christmas. Here is Kenny's address:

Movie Star Found Who Hates To Act

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — Found: A movie star who hates to act.

In my years of picking grapes in these vineyards, I have talked to every film celebrity. Nearly all of them has some complaint. Some hate the folderol that goes with acting—the autograph fends, the cranks, the lack of privacy. Many hate their studios, the actors playing opposite them.

He Prefers Directing

But I never found one who said he really hated acting. Until I talked to Ray Milland.

I found him on the set of "Love Song," where he was about to play a tense scene with Jane Wyman. I remarked about the announcement that he will direct as well as star in his next picture. Milland has been trying to wangle a director's job for several years, and I asked him why.

"Why?" he snorted. "For two very simple reasons: 1. I think directing would be much more stimulating than acting; 2. I hate acting."

This was no wisecrack tossed off in an idle mood. I could tell by the glint in his eye that he did hate acting.

"I never have liked to act," he explained. "It makes me terribly self-conscious. Whenever I have to go into a scene, I tense up. I get a frog in my throat. I break out in a sweat and I begin to twitch all over."

Romance Started It

"I view each new picture with dread. When I finish a day's work, I say to myself, 'Well, there's one less day to suffer through.'"

If he hates acting so, how did he get into that line of work?

"Do you want to know the truth?" he asked.

"Certainly."

The answer was simple and frank. "I was romancing a movie actress at the time."

That was 20 years ago, and his years of so-called suffering have brought him a fortune and Hollywood's highest prize. His rye-soaked role in "The Lost Weekend" won him the Oscar in 1945.

But despite all this, he is eager to get behind the camera and leave acting to others.

Milland finally landed an actor-director contract at his old home lot, Paramount.

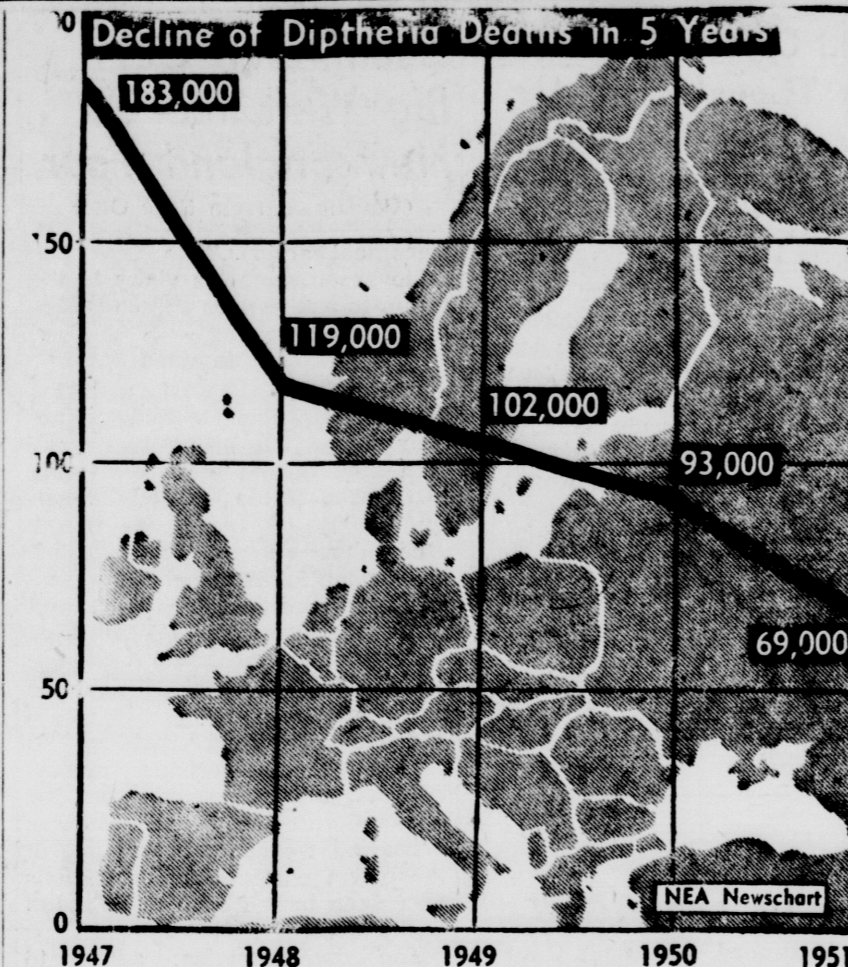

"So what happens?" he asked. "Paramount was planning 28 pictures for next year. Then 14 of them were dropped, and one of them was the picture I was supposed to direct."

Face Goes Sour

The actor offered his services to other studios with scant results. Finally, Bill Pine and Bill Thomas assigned him to "Run for Cover" as director and star.

"It's a beautiful script—just what I've been waiting for," Milland enthused. "A fellow came in off the street with a 30-page story. Pine and Thomas read it and loved it. The guy expected two or three thousand, but they wrote him a $10,000 check right on the spot."

"It's a Western, but with a different twist. It's as good as 'Oxbow Incident' or better. The only thing I'm not wild about is acting in it. I'd rather just direct."

Europe's amazing drop in deaths from diphtheria since 1947 is shown in the above Newschart. Standing then at a high of 183,000 fatalities per year, deadly results of the disease have been cut more than 50 per cent in a five-year period, according to United Nations World Health Headquarters in Geneva, Switzerland. The organization hopes for the eventual disappearance of diphtheria, mainly a killer of children.

He was interrupted by a call to play a scene in "Love Song." His face grew sour and he walked into the set like a boy going to school in trout season.

"Just one less day," he muttered.

Snake-Catcher Hired By Firm In Africa

DURBAN, South Africa (AP) — Mambas, puff-adders and other deadly reptiles have so harassed white technicians and African laborers working on the new 17 million dollar Standard Vacuum Oil refinery here that the company has hired a snake-catcher to prevent walkouts.

Site workers hacking their way through virgin bush complained of the snakes which festooned the trees and whirled up from overturned rocks.

Julio Desebrook, 66, was hired to flush the snakes out. He has been catching snakes about 40 years, and is rated as "the most successful snake catcher in South Africa."

Desebrook has caught one snake nearly five feet long. The company also permits him to sell the snakes he catches.

May Acquitted; Weeps In Court

WASHINGTON (AP)—George F. May, Chicago business man, was acquitted today on contempt of Congress charges.

Federal Judge Bernita S. Matthews, who heard the case without a jury, ruled that May was within his constitutional rights in refusing to answer questions from the Senate crime investigating committee that possibly could involve him in some federal prosecution.

May, 62, business engineer and promoter of the Tam O'Shanter Country Club's big-money golf tournaments, wept openly upon hearing the verdict.

May appeared before the crime investigating committee May 28, 1951. He was asked many questions about the operation of slot machines at the Tam O'Shanter Club, and refused to answer them.

He also refused to say whether he knew Eddie Vogel, described as the slot machine king of Cook County, or other persons who have been linked with the Chicago underworld.

Harvey C. Duvall, C&NW Agent, Dies

Harvey C. Duvall, about 60, former Marinette resident who was general passenger agent for the Chicago and North Western Railroad company, died Monday night at his home in Glen Ellyn, Ill. Cancer was the cause of death.

He began his railroad career as ticket agent at Norway in 1913. Three years later he left to study at Northwestern University at Evanston. After a year in college he entered the Army during World War I and was taken a prisoner of the Germans.

Following his release from the service he returned to Marinette to serve as ticket agent and later went to Pittsburgh, where he was passenger and freight agent. About 20 years ago he was transferred to the Chicago office and gradually rose to his present position.

He married the former Elsie Anderson of Marinette. Besides his wife he is survived by a son, James, and a daughter, Jean. Funeral services will be conducted Thursday in Chicago.

Casualty List Gains On Korean Front

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department today announced the highest weekly U. S. casualty toll in the Korean War since the week ended July 2. The total for the week ended last Friday was 963.

This raised the total U. S. casualties in the Korean fighting to 122,117.

In the previous highest week, more than three months ago, the total U. S. casualties were 985.

Last week 133 U. S. servicemen were killed in action, bringing the total number of Americans killed in the fighting to 19,184.

MOROCCO AND SPAIN LINKED BY URANIUM—The dotted line on the Newsmap above shows areas in Spain and Morocco where deposits of uranium ore have been found. Rich finds of the stuff that makes atom bombs have been found in the Strait of Gibraltar, and zeuterite, a uranium ore, has been found in the Granada-Loja area. According to a German technician, the Spanish Sierra Nevada Mountains hold large deposits of radioactive material. In Morocco the areas around Larache, Petition, and further south in the Atlas Mountains and near Ouarzazate all contain radioactive minerals. The Colomb-Bechar region abounds in similar metals and an American geologist thinks that the Timimoun area also contains many such minerals.

Briefly Told

Democratic Meeting—A Democratic rally will be held at 7:45 p. m., Thursday at the Rapid River school. In addition to showing of a sound film, there will be a speech and county candidates will be introduced.

Theft Is Reported—Eugene Burnett of 1213 Second Ave. S. yesterday reported to Escanaba police that a record player or amusement machine is missing from K. of C. Hall. The machine, valued at $225, was last seen there about Oct. 17.

In Air Force—Emmanuel John Dart, who is in the U. S. Air Force at Lackland Air Base, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Emmanuel Dart, 309 S. 16th St. An item and picture from the Air Force published Monday omitted reference to Mr. Dart.

Burning In Streets—Escanaba firemen were called twice yesterday to extinguish fires in piles of leaves on the street. Capt. Nels Bergeon directed attention to the city ordinance which prohibits the burning of leaves or trash on city streets.

says shows McCarthy's lack of interest in domestic problems. Backers of Fairchild contend he has "a good fighting chance to win." They point to nearly 450,000 anti-McCarthy votes in the primary which they say will go to their man. If Fairchild gets these votes together with the stay-at-homes he can win, his supporters claim.

McCarthy, 42, won his Senate seat in 1946 despite long odds against him. His primary opponent, Sen. Robert M. LaFollette Jr., spent only one week in the state but McCarthy beat the bushes for votes, day by day, month by month, and was rewarded with a 5,000-vote victory. In the election he smothered Democrat Howard J. McMurray, 620,430 to 378,772.

much train trouble that he received an apology from James P. Shields, grand chief engineer of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

Among the incidents: at Saginaw, Mich., the loud speaker system went dead. Hardly anyone could hear Eisenhower, and those who could didn't hear him long. The train pulled out while he was still talking. Same thing at Lapeer, Mich. He hardly had begun when the train up and left.

In Kentucky, at Owensboro and Henderson, the train stopped too soon, so that many in the crowd were unable to see Eisenhower. (One of the stops came because some youngsters darted across the tracks).

Chief Engineer Shields told Eisenhower: "Any interpretation of these incidents as implying opposition to your candidacy is based wholly upon misinformation and slander." Shields said every engineer regretted any inconvenience to Eisenhower or his listeners.

Trapped In Election
Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio was with some Indiana Republican leaders when a service elevator dropped them below the ground level. It stopped with a jolt, but no one lost his footing.

Taft and the others climbed on the operator's stool and stepped out. The Democrats have had complications too.

The firecracker that startled a Stevenson crowd for example. Gov. Adlai Stevenson, who had been talking about liberating oppressed people, turned it to advantage by quipping: "I hope somebody has been liberated!"

Then, there was the time when Indiana's Gov. Henry F. Schricker was to appear in Evansville to greet Stevenson at the airport. Stevenson arrived, but no Schricker. He had been detained. He finally showed up, 15 minutes late.

"I never thought," said the governor of Illinois, "I'd be welcoming you to Indiana."

Drive For Repeal Of Income Taxes Started On Coast

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Former actress Corinne Griffith, a actor Charles Coburn and others plan a national campaign to repeal federal income taxes.

Bertrand Gearhart of Fresno, Calif., former congressman, said yesterday several persons have formed an organization to work for repeal of the income tax and will file articles of incorporation immediately.

Listed as directors are Miss Griffith, who is the wife of George Marshall, owner of the Washington Redskins pro football team; Coburn, Gearhart, and Lorrin L. Morrison and Frank Chodorov, publishers.

"The federal income tax has broken down public morale," said Gearhart in a statement. "The right of privacy has been invaded and the home has become a romping ground for government agents."

Hudsonville Bachelor Admits Setting Four Fires For The Thrill

HUDSONVILLE (AP)—A 41-year-old day laborer has confessed that "for the thrill of it" he set four major early morning fires here in the past 22 months that caused damage estimated upward of $400,000, state police said today.

Detectives of the Rockford post said that Russell "Bud" Zwagerman, a bachelor occasionally employed as a truck loader, admitted touching off the blazes with lighted papers.

They quoted Zwagerman as saying he would go home after starting the fires, wait until an alarm was sounded, then return to enjoy the "excitement" and to watch firemen battle the blaze.

His presence at each of the fires was one of the factors leading to his arrest, officers said.

Transports Bring Men Back From Far East

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The transport A. E. Anderson docks today from the Far East with 1,470 Army and Air Force personnel, 337 from the Navy and Marines and 175 civilians.

Two transports, the Marine Sergeant and Gen. Nelson M. Walker, arrived yesterday carrying 3,765 servicemen, most of them combat veterans of Korea.

'Old Colonel' Who Died On Triangle Hill Up For Medal Of Honor

WITH 7th DIVISION, Korea (AP)—Lt. Col. William H. Isbell, "the old colonel" who died dramatically on Triangle Hill while leading an infantry charge, will be recommended for the Medal of Honor.

U. S. 7th Division headquarters today said its artillery section was drafting the citation.

Isbell, of Gambrills, Md., was called the "old colonel" by young infantrymen although he was only 45. He had worked his way up the steep slope through intense Chinese Red shellfire to find whether his artillery could be used more effectively.

He found infantrymen pinned down 50 yards short of the crest, walked to the top and called upon them to follow. A Communist dynamite blast killed him.

nism" and said this led to the Korean War and the loss of China to the Reds.

Taft said the main issue of the campaign is "whether we shall follow so many countries of the world down the Socialist trail."

"Socialism, of course, is a relative term, but the philosophy of Mr. Truman and Mr. Stevenson can fairly be called socialism, which believes that all progress must be made through government," Taft said.

Corruption Digs Cheered
By contrast, the Republicans "believe that progress in this country has been due to the freedom of our people to work out their own problems with government merely providing the framework upon which progress can be built," he added.

The Ohio senator won perhaps his biggest bursts of applause from an audience that overflowed the 1,200-capacity John Marshall High School auditorium with digs at the Democrats on corruption, communism and Korea.

"The people want a government of honesty and integrity in Washington," he said, "and they can't get it unless they elect the Republicans." He noted that Mr. Truman has said "he cleaned up corruption wherever he could find it."

Taft added: "Well, he didn't look very hard."

Million Paid For TV Talks By Bishop Sheen

NEW YORK (AP)—Bishop Fulton J. Sheen's television series, "Life Is Worth Living," has won million-dollar backing.

The Admiral Corp. announced last night it will sponsor the 26-week TV series starting Nov. 18 over a score or more Dumont TV network outlets.

Dumont said the million paid by admiral TV and radio firm, less expenses, will go to Mission Humanity, Inc., of which the Roman Catholic bishop is national director. Mission Humanity is a member of the voluntary agencies of the United Nations and aids hospitals and other institutions throughout the world.

Eisenhower Gets Big Welcome On New England Tour

piecemeal actions."

Stevenson gave his views to the forum in a television speech broadcast from Chicago.

Streets Jammed
The industrial East and the doubtful states in the Midwest appear to be the prime targets of both men during these remaining two weeks of the presidential battle.

Eisenhower swept through politically doubtful Massachusetts yesterday to receive a thunderous welcome wherever he went—with Boston putting on the greatest demonstration he has received since he began campaigning.

Police estimated that up to 100,000 people—perhaps more—crowded into the streets and the Boston Common to give Eisenhower a roaring welcome. It was one of the biggest political demonstrations ever seen in the Irish and Roman Catholic center.

The demonstration, added to those he received in other cities, gave the Eisenhower command hope that the GOP candidate has a strong grounds well running in his favor in New England.

Noisy Receptions
Eisenhower used the Boston appearance as a take-off point to blast "Godless communism" again with an indirect slap at the Democratic leadership in Washington.

He said his reasons for opposing communism aren't theoretical, and then added: "They are not based just on reading books by Marx and Lenin and Stalin. They were reinforced by some first-hand experiences with communism and Communists. And they were not of the Yalta or Potsdam kind either."

And he said: "If we are to win this deadly struggle with communism, we must have a leadership that can unite us behind great objectives—a leadership morally and spiritually strong."

Driving from Boston to Lynn, Mass.—where he boarded a plane for New York—Eisenhower was given big and noisy receptions wherever he appeared.

Like FDR Days
At Cambridge, Harvard students turned out in such a surge of enthusiasm that security guards were fearful for a time that the general might be harmed. No one was injured, although police and guards had a bad time of it getting the Eisenhower motorcade safely through the student crush.

While the emotional content of the welcomes reached a peak at Cambridge, there was a noticeable emotional strain running through all of Eisenhower's receptions.

Some of it appeared attributable to excitable teen-age youngsters just having a fine time—but this did not account for all of it. And some onlookers remarked they had seen nothing quite like it since the campaigning days of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Gov. Warren Says Ike Best Bet To Lead U. S.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—"No American living today is capable of giving the leadership Gen. Eisenhower can give the cause of peace," California's Gov. Earl Warren said here last night.

Warren, speaking locally on radio and television, said the United States needs Dwight D. Eisenhower in the White House. Warren, who made an unsuccessful bid for the GOP nomination in Chicago last summer, described Eisenhower as a "leader who knows what the hazards will be to this country if we do not achieve peace."

Moose Outruns Car Near Soo Junction

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich. (AP)—A curious moose outran an auto for about 1,000 feet near Soo Junction yesterday in the second moose incident in this area in three days.

The big animal was grazing by the side of M-28 when three Sault Ste. Marie women drove by. He chased the car, passed it and then ran ahead of it for several hundred feet before an oncoming car frightened him away.

Another moose was sighted in the St. Mary's River area, some 60 miles away, on Monday.

ing in Pennsylvania where 32 electoral votes are at stake.

From Wilkes-Barre in the anthracite coal country of the Northeast to Pittsburgh in the West, Truman moved by automobile and train in an effort to swing the big state back into the Democratic column.

Security In Prison
In the Scranton speech Truman quoted Eisenhower as having told a Los Angeles audience that social security "is a matter that is much on my heart."

If it is on his heart, the President said, "it is only recently arrived there." He said Eisenhower told a Texas audience three years ago: "If all the Americans want is security, they can go to prison. They will have enough to eat, a bed to sleep on, and a roof over their heads."

And he quoted Eisenhower as having said on another occasion the best example of security would be "a man serving a lifetime in a federal prison."

Eisenhower, Truman said, "has had a complete social security in the Army all his life, but as scorned the needs of others—except in that brief interval of time, 'the me-too' phase of the Republican campaign in a presidential election year."

Rug Cutting Banned In Oxford Jazz Club

OXFORD, England (AP)—Oxford University undergraduates can revive their banned jazz club, but no rug cutting.

Officials lifted a prohibition against the club ordered last year. They told members they must not dance at club meetings or drink liquor.

The members also were reminded that the club's function was to "study the historical and sociological aspects of jazz."

Bitter Arguments Faced In UN Over Ending Korea War

Korean armistice negotiations into the U.N. halls here—a move the West will fight tooth and nail.

The expected American proposal will run head-on into an omnibus Polish resolution calling for Korean peace on Communist terms—including repatriation of all prisoners of war whether they want to go home or not, a one-third cut of armaments by the great powers, outlawing atomic and bacteriological warfare and a Big Five peace pact. Western diplomats said it was the same old Communist line but did not oppose it going on the agenda for debate.

Russia Loses Round
Also coming up in the Political Committee debate, which promises to start sometime this week, is an American proposal that the Assembly set up a commission to investigate Communist charges that the U.S. has launched germ warfare in Korea.

Russia was soundly beaten, both in the Steering Committee and later in the full Assembly meeting yesterday, in her effort to get the U.N. to invite Red Chinese and North Koreans here to take part in the Korean debate.

Charging that the U.S. was taking a "cowardly" position in opposing this proposal, Soviet Delegate Andrei A. Gromyko declared in vitriolic terms that the United States "fears, as the devil fears the cross," coming face to face with the Communist Chinese and North Koreans in debate.

So violent was his verbal attack that Britain's chief delegate, Selwyn Lloyd, appealed to Gromyko to speak without insult and abuse. The Briton also declared, in support of the Americans, that the Red combatants could be of no help in the debate, but that they might be called upon to give testimony if a proposed investigating commission was set up.

The Assembly defeated the Russian proposal 46 to 5. The Steering Committee vote on a U. S. procedural motion bottling up the Russian demand there was 11-2.

Egg Tossed At Adlai Leaving Elkhart, Ind.

ELKHART, Ind. (AP)—An egg was thrown at Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson today as the Democratic Presidential nominee left Elkhart. Police detained a young, blonde woman for questioning.

The egg hit the top of the rear platform of the Stevenson train and dripped down. Newsman said Stevenson, waving goodbye as the train was pulling out, probably did not see the egg.

Michigan Nominees For Governor Alike But So Far Apart

By JACK I. GREEN

LANSING—Never has Michigan had a choice for governor between two men so similar—and so far apart.

The choice is between Gov. G. Mennen Williams, the Democrat, seeking his third successive term, and Fred M. Alger Jr., the Republican, seeking promotion from the secretary of state's office which he has held since 1946.

Both are the product of wealth, eastern prep schools, Ivy League universities. Both are young and personable. Both have proved themselves aggressive campaigners. Both have World War II records. Both are married to politically-potent wives.

Protege Of Murphy

There the similarity ends. Williams, 41, is a scion of an advocate of the basic New Deal.

A protege of the late Democratic governor and U. S. Supreme Court justice, Frank Murphy, Williams has plumped hard for social legislation and has battled the GOP-controlled Legislature unsuccessfully for four years for a corporation profits tax. He has vetoed numerous Republican tax measures on the grounds they were "consumer" taxes.

He has a record of almost continual warfare with the Legislature, a war which did not prevent him from winning reelection two years ago in a normal Republican state over former Gov. Harry F. Kelly, who was strong enough to knock off Alger in the year's primary.

If Williams' personal popularity has been amazing in Michigan, Alger's sudden emergence as a slashing, hard-fighting candidate has also surprised the initiate.

Fought The Bosses

Alger, 45, the grandson of a former governor and secretary of war, entered politics as the first president of the now-potent Wayne County precinct organization, dedicated to smashing the McKay-Barnard "boss" control of the state GOP. It succeeded.

He rode into state office first on the Sigler landslide, but won handily two years later when Kim Sigler was badly beaten. Two years ago, Alger was reelected again by the biggest majority of any man on the ballot.

Conceding he was underdog, Alger came out fighting this year with a vigor that amazed his followers.

Williams, who has shaken hands in every four corners of the state, found Alger right in there pumping beside him—and sometimes ahead of him.

Alger has hammered Williams for his refusal to get along with the Legislature, promising that he can instill sufficient economy and efficiency into state government to conquer its fiscal difficulties. He has stodd firmly against any new taxes.

Office Costs Cut

Alger argues his record of secretary of state is proof of his abilities. He said he has absorbed 40 per cent more work in his office, yet cut costs seven per cent.

Alger is known as a liberal Republican. He was the first public official to come out for Dwight D. Eisenhower before the Chicago convention. He called himself "captain of the Ike team" in Michigan.

Williams' campaign theme has been "Build Michigan." He contends that despite legislative opposition the state's economy, industry, tourist business, and labor, as well as its own institutions, has benefitted as the result of a sympathetic governmental climate.

Williams is a former state and federal assistant attorney general, a former official of the Office of Price Administration and a former member of the State Liquor Control Commission.

Alger has held no other public office.

Alger's family made itself wealthy in lumber, Williams' in men's toiletries, real estate and pickles.

Americans Called Good Story Writers

DUBLIN, Ireland (P)—Irish author Frank O'Connor says his recent visit to the United States gave him a feeling that "every American is a born short-story writer." He visited Harvard and other universities where he gave lectures.

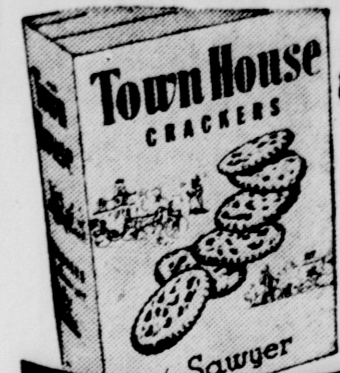

"I had one or two short stories submitted to me by young students that were as good as any new work I've read for years."

Land Reform Program Backfires In China

HONG KONG (P)—Independent underground reports say the Communist "land reform" program in one big area in South China has backfired, bringing on "famine and chaos."

One newspaper says that in Kwangsi province Red efforts to seize the land sent thousands of farmers flocking to the cities, leaving thousands of acres idle and the countryside facing starvation.

This report says 40,000 farmers in four counties alone have been dispossessed, and possibly 3,000 of them have gone over to the guerrillas.

Introduce Children To Records That Teach And Entertain

Nanette Guilford, who has introduced the story of America on records for children, says "recordings offer one of the most positive ways to teach the true meaning of America's heritage."

By ANNETTE GREEN
NEA Staff Writer

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Stop worrying about the effect comic books, television and the movies have on your children, and do some constructive planning instead.

This is the advice of Nanette Guilford, founder of a special type of children's records that teach, among other things, the history of our country.

Miss Guilford, who has had a wide and diversified background in music, having sung in many well-known operas, turned her talents to children's records after the last war. These records teach everything from history to atomic theory—in language and songs that youngsters can understand.

"Plan a prescribed period for daily record sessions," she suggests. "And don't leave your children alone while they listen. Share the experience with them."

Use Pictures, Too

If, for instance, you want the youngsters to hear the records that tell about the life of President Lincoln, see if you can't find some pictures of the President so that the children can look at them while the records are played.

Since children love to repeat over and over again the stories that appeal to them, after the records are finished, give the youngsters an opportunity to talk about what they have heard. Then, too, they will probably want to ask you a variety of questions.

Be selective about the pieces you choose. If your little boy is interested in engineering, he will appreciate the records that describe the lives of some of the nation's leading engineers.

Since so many young children are frightened at the prospect of going to school, Miss Guilford has also introduced recorded lessons in such school subjects as arithmetic. This is certainly one way to get your youngsters off to an early and enjoyable start in learning.

Pleasant Learning

"Records," says Nanette Guilford, "are one of the most positive means of teaching children. Pleasant and entertaining to listen to, youngsters remember them with delight rather than annoyance."

It might be fun to stimulate interest by giving record parties for the children in the neighborhood every now and then. Allow each child to pick the records he or she likes the best, and then write the name of the child and the records on a slip of paper. Put the slips into a box.

Next, explain to the children how many records may be played and have them pick the allotted number of slips from the box. You can save the unused slips from one party to the next.

There's little doubt that once you expose your children to this new type of entertainment and education, you will be helping them to build their lives on a strong, healthy foundation.

Supreme Court Will Interpret Parts Of Taft-Hartley Law

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court will decide whether the Taft-Hartley law bars unions from punishing members by depriving them of work when they violate union rules.

The high tribunal announced it will hear arguments on two appeals which ask an interpretation of a section of the labor law.

Behind In Dues

In one case, Willard Christian Fowler complained the AFL Radio Officers' Union caused the Bull Steamship Co. in New York to refuse him a job on the steamship Frances. Fowler said his trouble resulted from not getting union "clearance" before talking with the company about the job.

In the other case, James Frank Boston said the AFL Brotherhood of Teamsters caused the Byers Transportation Co., of Kansas City, Mo., to deprive him of work as

Fire Announcement Brings Big Smiles

BEDFORD, Ind. (AP)—Nobody knows who started it, but for years a common practical joke here has been an excited announcement that the courthouse is on fire.

So when Bob Abel dashed into the Bedford National Bank and shouted, "The courthouse is on fire, call the fire department!" everybody just grinned.

It really was on fire—fortunately, just some tar on the roof.

Citizens Upset Town In Treasure Hunt

PRESCOTT, Ark. (AP)—A "treasure trove" of $84 has been found, much to the relief of town fathers.

The money was hidden by radio station KXAR as a publicity stunt. Since that day about a month and a half ago, the town has been topsy-turvy. People had searched in the town clock and the Prescott high school football stadium among other places. At one point, high signments. The incident occurred when Boston got behind on his union dues.

Union Appeals

The Taft-Hartley section says a union may not attempt to cause an employer to discriminate against a worker in violation of a sub-section. The sub-section says it is an unfair labor practice for an employer "by discrimination in regard to hire or any term or condition of employment to encourage or discourage membership in any labor organization."

The U. S. Circuit Court in New York ruled in Fowler's case that the union violated the Taft-Hartley law. The union then appealed to the highest tribunal. The U. S. Supreme Court.

Circuit Court in St. Louis ruled in Fowler's case that the union violated the Taft-Hartley law. The union then appealed to the highest tribunal. The U. S. Supreme Court.

Briefs

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Engel and Mrs. Edwina Burmeister and daughter Ethel of Lansing were recent guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hunt of Rock.

Mrs. John Baltus and her two children of Wausau, Wis. are guests in Rock at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Kleiber. Mrs. Baltus plans to visit here for about two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Jay Kleiber and granddaughter, Mary Jane, left this weekend for a short trip to Detroit and Ann Arbor. In Detroit the Kleibers will visit with Mr. Kleiber's brother, Sidney Kleiber, who recently underwent a major operation. On their return trip Mr. and Mrs. Kleiber will visit in Ann Arbor with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Kleiber.

Boys In Service

After serving with the U. S. Army in Japan for over two years, Sgt. Ernest Roberts of Rapid River decided it was time to have a talk with some of the folks at home. ## Why does the telephone company...

try to make the equipment that handles your calls as small as possible?

Take this tiny vacuum tube for instance. It boosts your voice traveling over the wires to distant telephones. Today 600 of these tubes can be mounted in a space two feet wide and eleven feet high. They do the job which once took a whole roomful of equipment.

It takes lots of equipment to make your telephone work. Just one call uses hundreds of electrical switches. Buildings are needed to house such equipment. So savings in space are mighty important. Making equipment smaller takes less material and that saves money, too.

Constantly seeking ways to make things smaller helps Michigan Bell keep costs down. Telephone service—up in price much less than most things you buy—takes a smaller part of the family budget than ever before.

This Man Can Tell You A Lot About Your Wife

CINCINNATI —(NEA)—There's a small man here with a twinkle in his eye who probably knows many more things about your wife than you do.

He knows, for example, that she visits her beauty parlor about once in every four months, she washes your socks about 100 times a year and she probably doesn't want you to help her with her housework.

The man is Dr. D. Paul Smelser, a market researcher. Smelser heads a group of 75 young women who annually call on more than 450,000 American housewives.

He's learned some interesting things.

One of them is that the average housewife is plenty content with her lot. "If you think she'd prefer a career," he says, "you're fooling yourself. Maybe that was true 15 years ago, but today we hardly meet a one who isn't glad she's a housewife."

What's more, almost all of the women consider themselves first-class cooks. But Smelser is quick to point out that he hasn't checked with their husbands.

One conclusion that a lot of husbands will agree with is that the average woman hates to follow instructions.

"She always wants to add a dash of this or a pinch of that," says Smelser, "to every recipe. She'll read a recipe that our scientists have worked on for months and say, 'Well, that's fine, but it certainly needs some sugar."

Another dark suspicion of husbands is also verified that their wives can't measure things accurately.

But husbands shouldn't be too doubtful of their mates' mechanical ability. Smelser says the modern wife is virtually an engineer. "She has to be," he explains. "She's left alone all day with a whole battery of complicated household gadgets."

When she asks you to help her around the house, she usually wants you to build shelves, fix locks, or mow the lawn—in other words, the heavy work. The other chores she feels she can do better herself.

But things are getting easier for her. You don't wear the heavy woolens that your grandfather did and Blue Monday has virtually disappeared—most wives do the laundry as they go along.

In compiling his data, Smelser estimates he has collected the opinions of 10 million women. Southern women are easiest to interview and metropolitan Easterners the hardest. Most businesslike are New Englanders and most casual are those in Southern California.

The information is channeled, in part, to Proctor and Gamble's new multi-million dollar Miami Valley Research Laboratories.

Though he knows all about hundreds of her foibles, Smelser has a high opinion of the average housewife.

"She keeps our scientists on the hop," he says. "And in that respect, I guess you could say that we're married to every housewife in America."

The Saar, disputed by Germany and France, produced about 12 million tons of coal a year.

Ceremonies At Isabella Sunday

ISABELLA—Laying of the cornerstone of the Bethany Lutheran church will take place Sunday, Oct. 26, at 3:15 p. m. Refreshments will be served in the church parlors at the close of dedication services. Hostesses will be Mrs. Nick Bonifas, Mrs. Alex Murray and Mrs. William Cambray.

Recently a gas heating system was installed in the kitchen and dining parlor of the church.

Briefs Mrs. Vernon Peterson has been soliciting for the Red Feather drive among Isabella residents on the Garden road.

Mr. and Mrs. Arvid Sundin and Mr. and Mrs. Judith Strom visited Saturday with Rep. and Mrs. John Wood in Manistique.

Isabella's first polio case, Lester Lake, is still receiving treatment at St. Luke's hospital in Marquette. Marsha Morrison, 2, daughter of the Richard Morrisons, who was entered as a polio suspect, also is receiving treatment at the children's hospital. It is believed the Morrison child is not afflicted with polio.

Mrs. Leo Nedeau visited over the weekend with her daughter,

Miss Marilyn Nedeau, in Escanaba.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Erickson have returned to Green Bay after spending the weekend at their cabin.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert McLeod and son, Vaughan, and Mrs. Signe Bonifas have returned from Lake Linden, where they visited over the weekend at the Clarence Dupuis home.

Miss Margie Nedeau of Escanaba spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Nedeau.

Lawrence Dupuis and James Sarzan of Lake Linden were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Bonifas at their Welcome Acres farm.

Mr. and Mrs. John Erickson and son, Keith, of Marquette, spent the weekend visiting with their son, David, who is staying at the Floyd Anderson home while attending Naima school.

Mr. and Mrs. Nick Bonifas, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Morrison, Mr. and Mrs. Art Larche, Arvid Sundin, Donald Green, Burton Peterson, Kenneth Segerstrom and Henry Peterson attended the football game at Manistique, between the Emeralds and the Marquette Red Wings, Saturday night.

Rosemary Londo, Richard Van Effen Exchange Vows

In a ceremony Oct. 18 at St. Patrick's Church in Green Bay Miss Rosemary Ann Londo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. Londo, became the bride of Richard Louis Van Effen. The bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Van Effen of 117 N. 19th St., Escanaba.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Henry C. Head solemnized the 10 a. m. service. Mrs. John Whitney was organist of the ceremony and Clifford Centen sang traditional wedding hymns.

The bride wore a chapel length gown of Chantilly lace over nylon net. The jacket featured a pointed collar and long tapering sleeves. A Juliet cap of matching lace with seed pearl trim held the fingertip length veil of nylon net. On her white prayer book the bride carried an orchid with streamers of Stephanotis.

American Beauty Velvet
In identical gowns of American Beauty velvet were Miss Nancy Remondino of Wauwatosa, the bride's college roommate who was maid of honor, and Miss Bernice Bukowski of Milwaukee, the bridesmaid. They wore Juliet caps and carried white muffs covered with baby mums and American Beauty roses.

Daniel Sell of Milwaukee was best man for Mr. Van Effen. William Londo, a senior at Notre Dame University, was usher with James McLean of Milwaukee.

The bride's mother wore a blue faille dress and Mrs. Van Effen wore a pin-check wine suit. Their corsages were white baby mums.

Members of the immediate families and the bridal party were served breakfast at the Elks Club where the afternoon reception was held. Presiding at the reception table were Mrs. John Delany, Evelyn Mangold, Mary Margaret Delany, Mrs. E. J. O'Brien, Mrs. Clifford Van Beck, Eileen Van Effen, Helen Van Effen and Mrs. Oscar Larsen.

Home in Milwaukee
The couple will be at home at 1029 E. Knapp St., Milwaukee on their return from a honeymoon in Southern Wisconsin, Illinois and Michigan. Mrs. Van Effen is a graduate of West High School and the College of St. Teresa at Winona, Minn. She has been employed as a medical secretary in Milwaukee. Her husband is a graduate of Escanaba High School and attended the Michigan College of Mining and Technology at Houghton and Milwaukee Institute of Technology. He is employed at the Chain Belt Co. in Milwaukee.

Among out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Beezer of Belleville, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. James E. Van Effen, the Misses Helen and Eileen Van Effen, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Larsen and Mr. and Mrs. Francis Rogers of Escanaba; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Londo of Los Angeles and Mr. and Mrs. Francis Cunningham, Chicago.

Today's Recipes

Another excellent recipe for sauerkraut comes from Mrs. A. B. Ellingson Jr. of Rapid River.

Sauerkraut
Shred cabbage fine. Take one tablespoon salt. Put half of salt in bottom of sterilized jar. Pack cabbage in jar loosely. Then put other half of salt on top. Fill jar with boiling water. Seal. If it bubbles out it will not spoil contents. This is very good and saves work and mess. The kraut will be ready to use in six weeks.

Sock-Hop Planned At Club Oct. 24

FABULOUS FANNY

The life story of FANNY BRICE

Her life was a stirring saga of slums to stardom. But with the dizzying heights of Ziegfeld glory came tragedy, resembling the lyrics of her song, "My Man." ## AS WE LIVE

Reason Romantic Problem With Head, Not Emotions

By Elizabeth B. Hurlock, Ph.D.
The problem of divorce and remarriage is one about which people have strong opinions on moral, religious, or personal grounds. What a girl should do when she falls in love with a divorced man is the question asked by this young woman:

(Q) "I am 22 years old. The man I love is the same age. When I first met him he had been going with a girl who was three months' pregnant. He married her, then went overseas. The baby was born while he was abroad but died shortly after birth. When he came back he got a divorce. He told me he was not the baby's father. We love each other very much and hope to get married. Do you think I should keep on dating him or forget all about him?"

(A) Yours is a difficult problem. You can solve it only by using your head instead of your emotions. Regardless of your attitudes toward divorce and remarriage, there are several relevant points that should not be overlooked.

In the first place, why did the young man marry a pregnant girl if he was not the father of her child? I question whether he's telling you the whole truth.

Granting, however, that his story is true, why did he marry her, knowing that she was carrying another man's child? If he loved her enough to marry her, then why did he divorce her when he returned from overseas? Surely, after her unhappy experience in losing the baby, he should have stayed with her and helped her rebuild her life.

I would most certainly stop seeing him. He has made a mistake in life, as many other people do, but I question whether he has strength to meet his mistakes honestly or courage to see them through.

I HEARD the other day about a man who's so thrifty he even has a use for old razor blades—he shaves with them! . . . Silly, isn't it? But it's not so silly the way Ralph at the Escanaba Beauty Shop uses new razor blades to cut your hair into a smart, easy to handle style. One girl tells me that the upward sweep of Ralph's razor has actually made her hair curly enough to wear without a permanent. Besides expert cutting, you'll find the best in permanents, manicures, shampoos and waves. Phone the Escanaba Beauty Shop soon for an appointment. Hair is one of those things that grows on you—you'll find this shop does, too!

AFTER he married, the architect discovered that his wife could make plans too! When the house you're building . . . or the garage . . . or that additional room . . . are finished on paper and ready to go in to something more substantial, be sure you see the Stephenson Lumber Company. They have served this area for a good many years, but you won't find them a bit old fashioned in building supplies. Those ROW removable windows, for instance, are the clear ticket to let a little sunshine in your life and your house, too. If your blueprints aren't sending you to Stephenson's, guess you'd better change your plans!

A GIRL'S best friends are her dogs. And the Penney Store make no bones about keeping them bone dry with superb snow boots. In either black or brown, you'll find them warmly lined with fleece. A smart wool cuff . . . and a smart price, just $4.98. A nylon boot, waterproof, laces at the front and fits all heel heights. Fleece lined and washable. Girls will love the sturdy child's snow boot; sizes 9 to 4. A warm fleece lining and wool cuff; $4.39 and $4.49. It's a pleasure being booted out of Penney's!

MEMO to those who bet on horses: The race can be lost in more ways than won. But if you want a sure bet for the human race, try a Stetson hat from Anderson-Bloom. Looked over the sharp new styles yesterday, there's a "Play Boy" as debonair as it sounds; and there's "The Open Road" which features the easy masculine styling of its Western origin. Stetson hats are marked at $10 and $12.50. Other fine headgear at Anderson-Bloom from $5.45 up. You can bet you're on the right track at this fine store.

ONCE you see the beauty of Deltex fiber rugs and the economical price you'll be completely floored. It's fiber rugs all over the house, and why not when you can have one 9 by 12 for as low as $21.95? Deltex rugs in solid colors are definitely not plain. And the interesting jagged woven patterns take on the look of expensive embossed rugs. See them at the Petersen Furniture Shop. Combined with 30% wool, the fiber has even more strength and a very dressy appearance. The "Woolcraft" 9 by 12 comes as low as $39.95. There are 7 smart decorator colors. For an economical floor covering with some distinction, let Petersen's call you on the carpet!

TO be accurate most women's birthday cakes should have the candles burning at both ends. But they're not ashamed of their age at the Fair Store—64 years—celebrated beginning tomorrow with their Anniversary Sale. One group of dresses I peeked at has values to $10.95 . . . now only $7.64. There are tailored and dressy frocks in the group—junior missy and half sizes in crepes, checks and men's wear fabrics. A square neck with a brilliant pin sets off a tomato red crepe. Large tucks in bodice and skirt for added style; comes also in navy or black. You can't hold a candle to this fashion center—more Fair with every year!

A CYNIC on women's clothes tells me fashion is a form of ugliness so intolerable that we have to change in every few months. But any such definition must be withheld when you speak of Shagmoor coats—classics in the fashion world, high style year after year. Gartner's Shagmoor coats in soft fleece are unbelievably lovely. The new colors—fern green, azure blue, dabbary, gray and taupe. Shagmoors come in regular sizes or petite (5' 5" or under). Also at Gartner's you'll find a large selection of novelty weaves and toasty warm storm coats.

A WOMAN'S face is her fortune and she doesn't want it littled. That's why it's important to use the best kind of cleansing and lubricating creams. Hooley for Gust Asp and his special offer on Yardley creams. You get two big jars for only $1.65 (They are usually $1.10 each). Choose from Dry Skin Cream, Lifting Cream, Cream, and English Complexion Cream at Asp's. They're delightfully fragrant and made from the original English formula. I'm like any other woman—give her an inch and she'll take a Yard-ley!

Mrs. Ahlgren Is Chosen For Information Tour

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Mrs. Oscar A. Ahlgren, Whiting, Ind., president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, will be one of eight prominent American women to visit Germany on a four weeks' information tour starting Nov. 9. The tour is being sponsored by the Federal Republic of Germany.

Other outstanding American women invited to tour Germany by the German government are: Mrs. Stewart Brown, San Francisco; Miss Mary Donlon, New York; Dr. Dorothy Ferebee, Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Charles Hemming, New York; Mrs. John Lee, Farmington, Conn.; Mrs. William B. Parsons, New York, and Mrs. Winfield W. Riefler, Washington, D. C.

In the course of the next few months, the German government will fly nearly 100 prominent American men and women to Germany to acquaint them with present-day life and institutions in Germany. These groups will be representative of the fields of science, labor, industry, finance, politics, education and the arts.

The group leaving in November was chosen from women in public life in the United States.

Mrs. Ahlgren accepted the invitation in the name of the 11,000,000 women of the General Federation of Women's Clubs. She said: "I am happy to have this opportunity to visit Germany. It will enable me to make a first-hand report on many matters of interest to the federated clubwomen of this country."

Retailers Make Christmas Plans

Preliminary plans for the community's annual Santa Claus program and for Christmas street lighting and decorating were outlined at a dinner meeting of the retail division of the Top o' Lake Michigan Chamber of Commerce Monday evening.

Store hours for the Christmas week also were approved. Ernest Eckland, chairman of the street lighting committee, was instructed to proceed with plans for getting Christmas street lights up early this year, including colored strings across the business streets and ornamental fixtures on the light standards.

Fred Williams, superintendent of the Edison Sault Electric Company branch here, reported that enough wiring was available to illuminate all of the prepared light strings but that no wiring was on hand to take care of the ornamental fixtures.

Plan Christmas Party

Eckland was instructed to contact the city in an effort to get the fixtures installed by Thanksgiving and to try to arrange for their lighting.

Fred D. Heltman, executive secretary of the chamber, reported that the chamber's Santa Claus committee had prepared preliminary plans for the Christmas party at a session last Saturday. The committee, he said, had set a budget of $750 which would be ample to provide approximately 2,000 gifts for children of the Manistique area. The gift this year, as tentatively approved, will include a small stocking of candy affixed to a Christmas coloring book.

He reported that the Santa Claus fund has a cash balance of $89 but owes about $100 on a loudspeaker purchased last season. The Santa Claus suit purchased last year is in good condition, he said, and should be usable for several years.

Store Hours Set

Saturday, Dec. 6, was tentatively set for the party. Retailers instructed the committee to proceed with the plans as outlined and to set its own definite party date.

Hours for department and gift stores during Christmas week were set as follows: Open Monday and Tuesday evenings until 9; close Christmas Eve (Wednesday) at 5:30; close Friday evening, Dec. 26, at 5:30 instead of remaining open in the evening as usual.

Grocery stores will not observe gift and department store hours, it was announced, but will adhere to regular closing schedule.

Over 25 retailers were present at the session. Alvin Nelson is retail chairman.

City Briefs

Mrs. Carrie Hargroves and Mrs. Englebreten, of Escanaba, visited here Saturday with friends.

The Jewish people have about twice as great immunity to tuberculosis as any other group of the white race.

Wedell Presides At Rapid River League Meeting

John Wedell, president of the Green Bay District Luther League, conducted the business meeting at the rally held Sunday at the Calvary Lutheran Church in Rapid River.

The program consisted of a solo by Robert Olson, curate at Zion Lutheran Church, and the girls of the local Luther League sang. Mr. Olson was also in charge of the sing-along.

Those attending from Manistique were Myrna Fish, Marion Knopp, Jean Osterhout, Marlene Gray, Donna Larson, John Wedell, Elizabeth Nylander, Joan Norberg, Arlene Anderson, Victoria Nelson, Robert Nelson, Mrs. Joseph Nelson, Mrs. Carl Wedell, Rev. and Mrs. G. A. Herbert and Robert Olson.

Forest Refunds Higher In 1952

Refunds to Schoolcraft County from Hiawatha National Forest receipts have increased approximately 800 percent during the past four years, it is revealed by records at the office of E. R. Crook, ranger of the Manistique district.

Refunds to counties, which are designated for schools and roads, represent 25 percent of total forest receipts.

Refunds covering the fiscal period from July 1, 1951, to June 30, 1952, amounted to $8,260.11. This aggregates a payment at the rate of 6.9 cents per acre.

Refunds in the three prior years follow: 1951, $6,128.40; 1950, $2,766.89; 1949, $1,697.26.

Current fiscal year refunds, payable after June 30, 1953, may be less than the 1952 amount unless activity in the Manistique district is increased, the ranger said.

As more timber in the district becomes merchantable in the years ahead, it is expected that county refunds will materially increase.

City Briefs

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Hyland, 139 N. 2nd St., are the parents of a daughter, Patricia Lynn, born Oct. 18, at the Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital. The infant weighed 8 pounds and 6 1/2 ounces.

Dramatics, east room, Marvin Frederickson.

Bookkeeping, commercial room. Contract Bridge, kindergarten room, A. W. Cockram.

Classes are regularly scheduled for one two-hour session weekly, 7:30 to 9:30, but may be arranged to meet twice a week if a sufficient number participating so desire.

The registration fee, payable in advance, is $2 for classes meeting once a week and $4 for those meeting twice weekly.

Persons interested in courses not listed are urged to register for those courses, and they will be provided if possible.

Local Student Has Straight A Record At U-M

Georgia Babladelis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Babladelis, 154 N. Cedar St., was one of 114 summer students at the University of Michigan who achieved perfect all-A scholastic records, it is announced by Charles E. Odegaard, dean of the college of literature, science and the Arts.

Georgia was graduated from Manistique high school with the class of 1949. In a letter of congratulations to Georgia's parents, Dean Odegaard says:

"It is my privilege, in behalf of our college, to congratulate you upon the distinguished all-A record which Georgia earned for the summer session. 'By this outstanding scholastic achievement, Georgia has brought honor not only to her college but to you as well. You may take justifiable pride in Georgia's brilliant record not only for itself but for the promise it gives of a really satisfying college career.'

Briefly Told

Choir Practice—The choir of the Bethel Baptist Church will practice in the church tonight at 8:30.

Westminster Fellowship—The Junior High Westminster Fellowship of the Presbyterian Church will meet in the church tonight at 7 o'clock.

Luther League—The Luther League of the Zion Lutheran Church will meet in the church tonight at 6:30 instead of 7 as previously announced.

Trees Replanted—A total of 116,000 trees have been replanted on 140 acres in the Manistique ranger district to replace timber which has been logged, it is reported by the local forest ranger. The Manistique district embraces the southern half of the Hiawatha National Forest.

Eastern Star—Ida Chapter No. 54, Order of the Eastern Star, will hold the installation of officers Saturday evening, Oct. 25, at 8 o'clock in the Masonic Temple. The committee consists of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Nicholson, Mr. and Mrs. William Shinar, Mr. and Mrs. Cal Stevens and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Saunders.

No Accident Report—John Tanguay, of Cooks, paid a fine of $10 and costs of $4 Monday afternoon in local justice court after pleading guilty to a charge of failing to report an accident. He was arrested by city and state police following an accident last Friday night on Deer street when his truck hit a parked car owned by Irma Brown.

Halloween Party—The annual VFW Post and Auxiliary's Halloween masquerade party will be held Saturday, Oct. 25, at 10 p. m. at the club rooms. Pot luck lunch will be served. All members and guests are invited to attend and join the fun. The children's party will be held Sunday, Oct. 26, at 2 p. m. at the club rooms.

In Swimming Meet—Gail Lundstrom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Lundstrom, Arbutus Ave., recently competed in a campus women's swimming meet at the University of Michigan, winning a first in a 25-yard free style heat and a second in a 25 yard back crawl relay heat. She was one of five girls who represented Stockwell dormitory at the university.

Successful Surgeon Has Only One Leg

NEW YORK (P)—Dr. Emma Aronson, 65, lost her right leg two years ago but it did not end her career as a surgeon.

At the New York Infirmary where she is an attending gynecologist, Dr. Aronson designed a special revolving chair for use in the operating room. It has a seat that can be raised or lowered, an airplane strap and a backrest which gives balance.

Eastside PTA Meets Thursday

The October meeting of Lakeside-Central Parent-Teacher Association, postponed from last week, will be held at 8 tomorrow night at Lakeside school, it is announced.

Theme of the meeting will be "Report Card Repercussions," presented in the form of eight skits. The dramatic presentations will be analyzed in discussion groups.

Discussion leaders and subject follow:

A child given $1 for every A, Mrs. Carlton Sidall.

A child punished for a bad grade in arithmetic, Mrs. Canford Grimes.

A doting parent rushing to the telephone to tell friends what "Johnny" has on his report card, Mrs. E. J. Doyle.

A child scolded for poor grades just before he goes to bed, Mrs. R. E. Slining.

A child punished for a poor grade in deportment even though he has all A's or B's, Mrs. Ralph Williams.

A child compared with an older brother or sister who has much better grades than he, Mrs. William Bays.

A child not rewarded for any grades but commended for the effort and initiative he displays, Mrs. Dorothy Larson.

A child let's down his hair about the grades he gets, Mrs. Carl Carlson.

Gordon Moore, a member of the high school band, will play a cornet solo, accompanied by Nick Bladalis, pianist.

Parents of children attending either Lakeside or Central schools are urged to attend the meeting.

The Conestoga valley in Pennsylvania's Lancaster County is the original home of the Conestoga wagon, prototype of the prairie schooner and source of the name "stogie" for a long thin cigar. Drivers of the wagons smoked such cigars and the name Conestoga became shortened to stogie, says the National Geographic Society.

Curtain Falls On 1952 U. P. Grid Season

The curtain falls on the 1952 Upper Peninsula high school football season this weekend with a dozen games, involving a number of long established rivalries, on tap.

Two U. P. Class B schools have completed their schedules undefeated and untied. Menominee and Iron River played final games last weekend. The Maroons were unsuccessful in finding an opponent for its open date cause by cancellation of the Marinette game which was scheduled for Nov. 1.

Included in the finales this weekend are such long-standing rivalries as Escanaba and Gladstone, Iron Mountain and Kingsford, Houghton and Hancock, Calumet and Ironwood, Stephenson and Newberry, Powers and Bark River and L'Anse and Wakefield. Wakefield is shooting for an undefeated Class C season.

Seeking their sixth straight victory in the 1952 windup will be Coach Tom St. Germain's St. Joe Trojans who travel to Niagara, Wis., Saturday afternoon.

Gladstone and Escanaba will both be placing win streaks on the block Saturday at Gladstone. The Braves have won their last four starts and the Eskymos have come out on top in their last three.

With the closing of the Peninsula grid season this week, the Upper Peninsula Sports Writers Association will meet on Saturday, Nov. 1, at the Dickinson Hotel in Iron Mountain to select the U. P.'s No. 1 team, coach of the year and all-U. P. players.

Television Cuts Down Grid Game Attendance

PALO ALTO, Calif. (AP)—Television the Michigan-Stanford football game deprived the "gate" of $31,187, Stanford Athletic Director Al Masters estimated yesterday.

"The combination of the World Series plus the grid contest itself on the TV screens reduced our crowd from its estimated normal of 65,500 to 30,818 actual attendance," he said.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

Los Angeles—Freddie Beshore, 196½, Los Angeles, outpointed Abel Fernandez, 194, Los Angeles, 10.

London—Randy Turpin, 158½, London, outpointed George Angelo, 157½, South Africa, 10, for British Empire middleweight title.

Terry Allen, 119½, London, stopped Eric Marsden, 110½, Lancashire, 6, for British flyweight title.

GLADSTONE BRAVES—The once-beaten Gladstone Braves will wind up the 1952 high school football season Saturday afternoon with a home stand against the Escanaba Eskymos. ## Trainer Andy Lotshaw Retires At Age Of 72

By TOM BRANAGAN

CHICAGO (AP)—A man may be no hero to his valet, but with his trainer it's different.

That's straight from the heart of one of the best—Andy Lotshaw, who retired this week after almost 30 years training Chicago Cubs and Bears.

In an interview, Andy went down the list of the great and near-great baseball and football professionals whose aches and pains have been his concern over the years.

"Hack Wilson, Pat Malone, Lon Warneke, Grover Cleveland Alexander, Dizzy Dean baseball stars all. Red Grange, Bill Hewitt, Bronko Nagurski, football luminaries—they were the greatest guys going," says Andy. "You couldn't beat them. High class, every one."

Not Feeling Well

The 72-year-old Cubs-Bears clubhouse fixture hates to leave his heroes, but he hasn't been feeling well lately.

"You've got to step down some time," says "Doc" Lotshaw, "and I'm going out with a lot of darn fine memories." He nodded at the countless pictures of sports figures that crowd the walls of his home.

"That Gabby Harnett!" enthused Andy. "I guess maybe he was the best. I loved that boy."

The colorful Gabby was one of the finest catchers ever seen in the National League. But his greatest attribute as a Cub was his ability to inspire others, says Lotshaw.

Dizzy Dean, the famed pitcher—turned radio announcers who joined the Cubs in the twilight of his career, was one of Andy's big projects.

Couldn't Fix Arm

"He broke his toe, you remember," Lotshaw says. "Well he couldn't take that big stride of his off the rubber and that interfered with his delivery and that in turn made his arm sore. I worked and worked with that arm but it just didn't do any good. I always figured Diz would've had a couple more good years if it hadn't been for that broken toe."

To this day Andy is awed by the massive proportions and immense strength of Bronko Nagurski. All American Minnesota fullback who played many years with the Chicago Bears. Andy says the Bronk was indestructible, and gives an example:

"One time he got the calf of his leg cut in an exhibition game with the Green Bay Packers. That was in the first half. Nag comes into the dressing room and we put eight stitches in it. He was out there the second half—and doing good as ever, I tell you."

Gathered Steam

But through it all, Michigan has gathered gridiron steam to the point where the Wolverines are figured strong contenders for the Big Ten title. Only Michigan, Minnesota and Purdue are undefeated in the league. Either Michigan or Minnesota will have to drop from that list this Saturday, and Purdue faces a twice-beaten rebounding Illinois club.

Yesterday Oosterbaan outlined the job Michigan must do on Minnesota if the Wolverines are to survive. Minnesota's fine halfback Paul Giel, is the key with his running, passing and kicking.

Most of yesterday's practice was devoted to familiarizing the Wolverines with the Minnesota offense. The Michigan defensive unit put in a long session against the reserves simulating Minnesota runs and passes.

Canty had shaped up as a strong defensive halfback possibility, and the two ends rated right behind Capt. Merritt Green

Dickson Is Leading Gopher Ball Pitcher

NEW YORK (AP)—It'll be a sad day for National League power hitters when 36-year-old Murry Dickson of the Pittsburgh Pirates finally decides to put his rubber-arm in mothballs.

The little Buck righthander, who has been more than generous in serving up home runs during his nine year career, led all major league pitchers in the gopher ball department for the 1952 campaign.

Murry, holder of the big league "home runs off pitchers" record, 39 in 1948, gave up 24 round-trippers during the past season. He also led the National League in 1951 with 32.

Murry's gopher ball was particularly effective on April 30 when he dealt out three circuit blasts, to Ed Mathews, Ebba St. Claire and Earl Torgeson of Boston.

In the American League, Cleveland's Early Wynn gave up the most home runs, 23.

The 32-year-old righthander posted a 23-12 record. Vic Wertz, the Detroit and St. Louis slugger, was Wynn's particularly nemesis, touching him for three homers.

Bobby Shantz, Carl Scheib and Alex Kellner, all of the Philadelphia A's each issued 21 homers to place behind Wynn in the American League.

Mary Grissom of the Chicago White Sox and Washington's Frank Shea each gave up six home runs, the least of the regular major league moundsmen.

Records of Detroit Tiger pitchers were Gray and Hoytman, 19 home runs each; Newnouser and Trucks, 13 each. Dizzy Trout, former Tiger now with Boston, gave up seven.

Grid Forecaster Picks Wisconsin

By JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO (AP)—The Old Swami tries again—

Purdue 20, Illinois 14 — This is a big one for the Rose Bowl-hungry Boilermakers.

Michigan 21, Minnesota 13 — The Wolverines appear too fast and aggressive for the Gophers.

Wisconsin 27, UCLA 20 — The UCLA's are good at stealing passes, but Wisconsin packs its punch on the ground.

Ohio State 34, Iowa 6 — Hawk-eye boss Forest Evashevski is counting the days until spring practice starts. He'd much rather play his freshmen against the Buckeyes.

Indiana 21, Northwestern 19 — Northwestern will have to do its business in the line because Indiana has slicker backfield.

Notre Dame 28, North Carolina 7 — The polio-interrupted Tar Heels are too far behind schedule to make it close against the roller-coaster Irish.

Michigan State 21, Penn State 14 — The Nittany Lions figure to be tougher than Syracuse, but still over-matched.

When the New York Yankees signed a working agreement with the Birmingham Barons it marked the New Yorker's first tieup with a club in the Southern Association.

Reserved Seats For Gladstone-Escanaba Game On Sale Here

An advance sale of reserved seats for the Gladstone-Escanaba football game Saturday at Gladstone is being made here for the convenience of Eskymo fans.

Superintendent Wallace Cameron of Gladstone announced today that reserved seat tickets are available at Gust Asp's, Tommy's Lunch and the Escanaba Senior High activities office.

Call Mantle For Third Army Exam

MIAMI, Okla. (AP)—New York Yankee sophomore Mickey Mantle is slated to leave here today with eleven other 4-F Ottawa County youngsters for Oklahoma City and his third Army draft examination in less than two years.

The 20-year-old baseball stand-out previously has been rejected because of a chronic bone disease, osteomyelitis, in his left leg above the ankle.

It was doubtful whether the Army would take him even if he passed his physical because of the number of persons dependent upon him. Since his father's recent death, Mickey has been the sole support of his mother, two brothers and a sister. He also is married and soon will be a father.

His leg ailment is the result of a football injury, received in a high school game. He wears a guard on his leg while playing ball to ease swelling and tenderness.

College Cage Stars Injured In Football

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Calvin College doesn't have a football team but ironically the school has lost the services of two basketball players because of football injuries. Basketball practice gets underway at Calvin Monday.

Calvin's star basketball guard, Steward Sisco, is out with a fracture of the right hand, and Sisco's substitute, Ed Muller, is out with a shoulder separation. They will be laid up until February.

They suffered the injuries playing tough football on the campus this week.

Crawls To Marathon Finish—29th Place

SENDAL, Japan (AP)—"I'm going to run to the finish," gasped marathon runner Isamu Kojima as he staggered toward the finish line today in the 13-mile run of the seventh national athletic meet.

Kojima fell eight times in the last 80 yards and virtually crawled the last few feet. A thunderous ovation went up as Kojima crossed the line and collapsed.

"Kojima showed fine fighting spirit," one meet official remarked as the determined runner was taken to a hospital on a stretcher.

Kojima finished 29th.

Jerry Hampton, center for the Columbia football team, has come a long way from home to play football. His home is in Lusk, Wyoming.

Jed Black, former Michigan State NCAA boxing champion and now a pro welterweight, was offered a contract to play baseball by the Chicago Cubs in 1949.

In This Corner

With Roy Crandall

St. Joe and Escanaba football patterns were remarkably similar this season. Both teams suffered losses in their opening game. The Trojans were trounced 31-0 by Gladstone and the Eskymos lost 7-6 to Sault Ste. Marie. St. Joe held Stambaugh to a 13-0 score and very nearly upset the favored Hilltoppers while Escanaba fought a 0-0 tie with Ironwood. From then on both teams progressed with every game. The Trojans beat Bark River, St. Norbert, Norway, Crystal Falls and Munising in order. The Eskymos lost by a last second touchdown to Menominee and then whipped Kingsford, Iron Mountain and Marinette in succession.

Numerous football fans have remarked on the amazing improvement shown by both teams. There's little doubt, for instance, that the Eskymos would have much trouble with the Soo Blue Devils if the two teams should meet now. And likewise the Trojans have come along so far that many St. Joe fans would like to see their first two games replayed.

The Trojans, by the way, are extremely eager to duplicate the feat of last year's team which also lost its first two games and then finished the season with six straight victories. Only the Niagara Badgers stand in the way of accomplishing that feat. If the Trojans come through next Saturday they will have won 12 of their last 14 starts. The Badgers lost their last start to Crystal Falls 20-19, not 20-13 as was reported Monday.

At Powers, the 1951 Tigers received belated recognition for their undefeated, untied grid season Friday night at a football pep rally. Harlan Hanson presented a trophy to Bob Lawrence, regular end on last year's team.

Remember when Emil Pontow was running wild for Menominee High School football teams a few years back. He scored TDs on 65 and seven yard runs for Carroll College Saturday as his team lost 26-21 to Valparaiso.

Negro Athletes Star For Michigan State Spartans

By ROBERT E. VOGES

EAST LANSING (AP)—Coach Biggie Munn always seems to develop at least one outstanding Negro player a year on his Michigan State football teams.

In the past there were Horace Smith and Jesse Thomas, both track stars, who shone at safety. And probably the best known was Don Coleman, the indestructible little All-American tackle of last year.

This year Munn has four standout Negro athletes on his 62-man playing roster.

These four have done a lot to keep Michigan State unbeaten and the top team in the nation. Three have earned game balls—the top honor that can be given them by their teammates.

Thrower Is Senior

Only senior in the group is Willie Thrower, the second string quarterback from New Kensington, Pa.

Willie had to prove himself the hard way after coming to Michigan State with terrific high school build-up as a passer. For two years he rode the bench and was the workhorse of practice sessions until he finally started hitting in competition this season.

So far, working only two games, Thrower has pitched for 12 completions in 16 tries, two of them good for touchdowns.

Jim Ellis, a junior and track man from Saginaw, is a fixture at safety and is always a touchdown threat on the kickoffs and punt runbacks. He made two touchdowns that way last year and scored another on a 59-yard jaunt against Syracuse Saturday.

Bobby Layne Sees Less Offensive Action

Too Many Signal-Callers?

By HARRY STAPLER

DETROIT (AP)—Has it really helped the Detroit Lions to have three top-notch quarterbacks on the squad?

Could the presence of three such stalwart play-callers as Bobby Layne, Jim Hardy and Tom Dubinski be an indirect liability—instead of the asset it's supposed to be?

You might ask those questions as you consider the factors behind the bogging down of the Lions once-again offense.

That offensive power must be regained if the Lions hope to catch the unbeaten San Francisco 49ers in the western division race.

QB Picture

Here's the quarterback picture: Last year Layne was the only quarterback, although Fred Enke was listed as a quarterback and came in occasionally when the Lions were so far ahead that Mortimer Snerd could have quarterbacked.

In such a situation, it was inevitable that Layne worked nearly 100 per cent of the time in practice sessions. He worked with every set of offensive backs.

Everyone was used to his counting cadence. Everyone was used to his handoff motions and timing. His blockers were used to his style of movement in the pass protection pattern.

And in turn, Layne was used to the timing and habits of all the offensive backs.

Utah Star

That was last season. Since then the Lions acquired Hardy from the Chicago Cardinals and in the draft picked up Dubinski, fourth leading passer in the nation in 1951, from Utah University.

With three passers and play-callers on hand, Coach Buddy Parker has alternated the three in practice sessions.

Thus Layne got only one-third as much work and one-third as much chance to mesh his timing and motions with the other backs.

The offense suffered in some exhibition games and in the opening league games with San Francisco and Los Angeles. Of course, in the last two games the chief cause of the offensive bogdown has been injuries to Doak Walker and Pat Harder.

You can't condemn Parker for the quarterback situation. Layne had arm trouble during the winter and early exhibition season and a replacement had to be developed.

Moreover, Dubinski couldn't be parted with because he looked like one of the best rookies to come into the league in recent years. He was only 21 and before long may have to step full-time into the shoes of Layne, 25, and Hardy, 29.

Recently Dubinski has been used some on defense in practice sessions and that has meant more offense for Layne.

Layne has his critics, especially among some of the paying fans at Briggs Stadium, but at present he's the best of the Lions' quarterbacks. And probably one of the NFL's best.

As Layne goes, so go the Lions.

Father's Role Is Topic Here

Mrs. Mary Weaver, a consultant for the Michigan Department of Mental Health, will present the wind-up lecture of a series on "How to Live with Your Children and Like It," here Thursday evening. Her topic will be "How necessary is Father?"

The lecture, sponsored by the University of Michigan Extension Service, will cover the father's role in family living and will point up the necessity of his fulfilling his role for good family health.

Mrs. Weaver formerly taught in Ohio and has done graduate work in mental health at the University of Michigan.

The lecture will be given at 7:30 p. m., Friday in the Gladstone High School assembly room.

Previously, those attending heard Miss Esther Middlewood, Mrs. Katherine B. Greene, Mrs. Belle Farley Murray and Dr. Wilbur West. The series has been very well attended.

GHS Host To Conference Of Student Councils

Gladstone High School will be host next Monday, Oct. 27, to about 50 high school students from this area who will attend the annual student council Visitation Day here.

Invitations have been sent by the Gladstone High School student council to their counterparts in 12 high schools in a 60-mile radius of this city to participate in the event which is designed to afford an opportunity for airing individual problems of the attending councils.

An Opportunity For

During the day the council members will sit in on classes in the high school, meet with each other in discussion panels and be addressed by a student guidance specialist of Michigan State College.

Student council representatives are expected from the high schools of Escanaba, Marquette, Manistiquette, Rapid River, Munising, Menominee, Stephenson, Carney, Naima, Perkins, Rock and Bark River-Harris.

They will be guests of the GHS student council made of sixteen students from the Seventh to Twelfth Grades, with John Norton Jr., as faculty advisor.

Assembly In Afternoon

The members are Jeanne Pierce, William Adams, Nancy Hall, Martha Mathison, Walter Houghton, Jere Anderson, Noreen Sebeck, Wayne Cassell, Roger Carlson, Joseph Corbiel, Frank Barak, Pat Stenac, Phyllis Thivierge, Marilyn Royer, Richard Ducheny and Mary Lancour.

On the same day, three members of the education department of Michigan State College, headed by Prof. Carl Horn, will be at Gladstone's elementary and secondary schools to observe teaching methods and techniques.

Early in the afternoon one of the visiting educators will address the student body of the high school.

Local WSCS Members To Attend Regional Meet In Munising

The Women's Society of Christian Service of this district will hold a sub-district meeting on Thursday, Oct. 23 at Munising. The session will start at 10 a. m.

Those from Gladstone who are attending are the Mmes. E. A. Christie, Nye Quistorf, Milton Findlay, Rose Louis, John Broecker, Clayton Johnson, Edwin Eldridge, Cameron Smith, Wesley Ward, Grier Ivory, Chester Young, Frank Cole, Robert Wilbee and John Murray.

Baptist Young People To Attend Iron River Leaders' Conference

A group of six young people of the First Baptist Church will attend a two-day conference in leadership training at Iron River Friday and Saturday, Oct. 24 and 25.

The group, which will be accompanied by Rev. K. J. Samuelson, pastor of the church, includes Gerald Smith, George Siscoe, Arlene Lindquist, Virgil Johnson, Leone Larson and Ronald Stephenson.

The featured speaker at the conference will be Rev. Val Hauck, noted youth leader, of Chicago.

4 Local Men Attend Development Bureau Meeting In Newberry

Four Gladstone men, Walter O'Brien, Charles Burton, Wynand Nieuwenkamp, and William Marble, are attending the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau meeting currently in session in Newberry.

Three of them, O'Brien, Marble and Burton are directors of the Bureau; and Nieuwenkamp is head of the Alger-Delta Cooperative Electric Association.

Success Secrets

NEW YORK (AP)—A group to study the secrets of business success has been formed by the presidents of 24 corporations from various parts of the country.

Known as the Committee to Encourage Enterprise, it will survey ways to encourage risk capital to give small corporations more support. John M. Fox, president of the Minute Maid Corp., is chairman.

Fox said his group wants to combat the steady decline in formation of new corporations since 1946.

Basketball Fixers Pose Pro Problems

By ED CORRIGAN

NEW YORK (AP)—The American Basketball League, which has been in operation since 1928, is at the crossroads today in its struggle for survival.

The venerable loop will decide at its annual meeting of the owners tomorrow whether to permit some of the players who have been involved in the basketball scandals to play for its teams.

But no matter what is decided, John J. O'Brien, the wealthy businessman, who has been president all through the years, will step down. O'Brien is upset over the the players to join the teams.

Sign Spivey

Some of the members have been reported in favor of opening the doors to the players and Elmiria went so far as to sign Bill Spivey, a former All-America at the University of Kentucky.

Three others—Alex Groza and Ralph Beard, who played with the Indianapolis Olympians of the National Basketball Association, and former Long Island University star Sherman White—have been signed by Jersey City.

"It would not be fair for me to say that my resigning has anything to do with the action of the owners in debating whether to hire these players," O'Brien said. "But in all its history our league never has been tainted and I wouldn't want it to start now."

Rigid Controls

"Why, in years gone by, we have banished players who were even suspicious. We didn't need proof. If a player was seen in the company of a gambler, his contract was not renewed. That's the only way to keep basketball clean."

"I think perhaps the Elmiria team was misguided in signing Spivey. He is under indictment but has not been found guilty of anything. In my opinion he still should be barred. I am not being unkind where these boys are concerned. I would certainly help them get jobs and become rehabilitated—but not in basketball."

Unofficially, it appears that the owners will okay the hiring of the players. Hal Robacher, Elmiria president, said he expects the league to sanction it.

Seeks Navy Leave For Tennis Play

NEW YORK (AP)—United States Lawn Tennis Association officials had their fingers crossed today that young Tony Trabert would be granted a leave of absence from the Navy to play in the Davis Cup competition.

With Trabert, the U. S. has a chance of carrying the cup back home from Australia. But without him, the three members of the delegation named last night to make the trip down under won't be much competition for Frank Sedgman, Ken McGregor and Co.

Playing Captain Vic Seixas, was close to whipping Sedgman once last year. But Straight Clark and Hamilton Richardson simply don't have enough to put up much of a battle.

Trabert, one of the best doubles players in the world, holds the key to the United States success. If Trabert is teamed with Seixas in the doubles, Uncle Sam's representatives could win the tandem event. If Trabert and Seixas each won one singles, it would turn the trick.

The Detroit Tigers drew 441,038 fans to 14 night games at Briggs Stadium this season.

PGA Tourney Change Likely.

NEW YORK (AP)—Although the PGA convention doesn't get underway until Nov. 10, it appeared today that the proposal for changing the playing format of the famed championship has an excellent chance for survival.

The plan, presented by the Birmingham Mich. Country Club, site of the 1953 tournament, would go a long way toward supplanting match play with medal play.

PGA President Horton Smith and Fred Corcoran, representative of the PGA Tournament Committee, both were enthusiastic about the planned move.

In match play the contest ends at any point that one player has won more holes than there are holes remaining to play. In medal golf, the golfer must complete the total number of holes designated for each round.

Should the proposal gain the support of the membership, the setup for the next year's PGA tourney, July 1-7 would go something like this: the defending champion and 15-low scorers in four days of medal play covering 72 holes compete in five days of match play golf for the championship.

Under the present procedure, 36 holes of qualifying reduces the field to 64 players who compete in five days of match play golf for the championship.

The increase of medal play would lessen the possibility of eliminating many of the "name" golfers in the early rounds, thereby increasing the box office take.

Former Tiger Offered Sacramento Manager's Job, Gordon Is Out

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Former major league catcher Gene Desautels of Flint, Mich., has been offered the managership of the Sacramento Club of the Pacific Coast League.

Eddie Mulligan, president of the club, said yesterday an answer is expected from Desautels in a few days.

Desautels would succeed Joe Gordon, ex-New York Yankee and Cleveland start second baseman. He was let go after the Cleveland Indians took over complete control of the Indianapolis team.

Desautels started his big league career with the Detroit Tigers in 1930.

Hollywood Overtures Are Interesting To Durocher

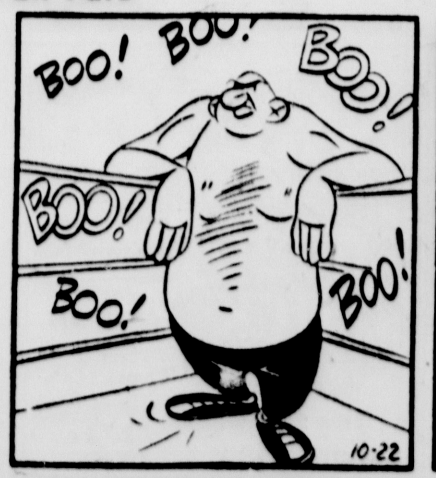

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Leo Durocher is thinking of following his wife, Lorraine Day, into the motion picture field.

The managers of the Giants says he has some proposals from the movie industry and that after the 1952 season he may give up baseball and become a movie producer.

"I'm giving the matter very serious consideration," Durocher told a newsmen yesterday. He said he would like to be able to spend more time with his family in California.

Durocher and the attractive Lorraine, whom he married in 1947, maintain a home on 4½ acres near the Riviera Country Club in Santa Monica. She has two children by a previous marriage.

Last Lecture In Extension Series Given Tomorrow

The last lecture in the discussion series, How To Live With Your Children—And Like It, will be presented here tomorrow, Oct. 23, at 7:45 p. m. by Mrs. Mary Weaver of the Michigan department of health.

The lecture, titled "How Necessary Is Father?", will cover the father's role in family living and point up ways in which he can be a very meaningful person to children.

Mrs. Weaver, a former Ohio teacher, will illustrate her lecture with moving pictures.

With this meeting, the course, which began Sept. 18, will close here. The session will again be held in the Assembly Hall of Gladstone High School.

Gladstone was one of five Upper Peninsula cities to receive the lecture series this fall. The course was scheduled here by the University of Michigan extension service with the cooperation of the state department of mental health and Northern Michigan College of Education.

Approximately 237 adults are enrolled in the course.

The Territory of Alaska is divided into four judicial districts.
